Redding Terrace Occupancy Delayed Repeatedly, Now Scheduled for Dec. 1

"If anything can go wrong, it will" is the classic "Murphy's Law" and apparently it's "Redding's Law," too. Moving day into the new 100-apartment complex at Mt. Lucas Road known as "Redding Terrace" has been postponed from October 1, to November 1 and finally—to December 1.

Bad weather—winter snow and cold and spring and summer rains—has caused delays, and the contractor has had trouble finding specialized workmen to do certain jobs.

All the residents have been chosen, according to Karin Slaby, executive director of the Housing Authority of Princeton, although a few places remain in the 60 apartments allotted to elderly people.

Elderly persons who meet the income requirements for public housing and who are interested in an apartment in Redding Terrace, should call at 50 Clay Street and talk to Mrs. Slaby.

It is not possible, Mrs. Slaby explains, for a few families to move in as various units are completed. Everyone must move in at the same time. Under Federal "turn key" regulations, the contractor owns the project. The Housing Authority cannot buy it from him formally until all municipal inspections have been made and a certificate of occupancy issued. Then the project can become the property of the Housing Authority.

Mrs. Slaby pointed out that the existence of a few vacant units for elderly tenants does not mean that Princeton Community Housing's proposed Borough apartment house for the elderly is not needed.

Redding Terrace is for low-income persons who qualify for Federal public housing. PCH's project would be for moderate-income residents.

What "Redding Terrace" means to people who live in the neighborhood—especially on the nearby stretch of Ewing Street—is the silt-and-water flowing from the construction process.

At Township Committee's September 6 meeting, member Hugo Hoogenboom declared in exasperation that the contractor should be told to solve the drainage problems attendant on construction, or face an order to stop construction altogether.

The next day, Township engineer Joseph Hodak and assistant engineer Bhagwan Dass, conferred with the superintendent of construction William Faulk.

The two engineers had discussed drainage problems with Mr. Faulk before. This time, the superintendent said he would construct a temporary berm to halt the run-off of silt and he has done so. He also said he would be laying topsoil and planting grass-seed soon, which would halt the soil erosion process.

According to Township engineers, he should have built sediment-control berms at the start by piling up the soil as it was removed during construction.

Future drainage will be controlled by a detention basin, built on the site, and by the new topsoil, grass and plantings.

Continuing Management of Palmer Square Poses Numerous Problems for University as Its Landlord

"If Princeton's downtown doesn't improve, it will deteriorate. 'No change' is the almost-certain road to downgrading."

John P. Moran, Princeton University's vice-president for facilities, talked this week about two things: the future of Princeton's CBD (Central Business District) and the University's controversial decision to seek an outside manager for Palmer Square, Inc., a move some merchants have viewed with alarm.

Low-key, a man who speaks softly and deliberately, Mr. Moran is not known as a fire-brand. He has been in his present job since 1973 and has been involved in the University's physical planning for some 19 years.

"To keep Princeton attractive, the CBD must expand — some," he believes, but catering to a "huge area," the way the shopping malls do is not realistic.

"Realistically, the CBD must serve the region. Princeton has always, historically, been a regional center for central New Jersey. It has always — as today — drawn people here to shop, have a nice lunch, tour the campus, enjoy the atmosphere."

Variety Essential. "And it's terribly important to provide a wider variety of shopping experience for people who already live here. And by 'here,' I include people who live, for example, in Plainsboro. The stores in Princeton serve only a segment of the potential market. Young adults in their 20s and 30s living in Plainsboro say they don't find here the kind of merchandise many of them want."

"They are affluent — no children, two good incomes. This is a group that is not being served."

The dilemma, he acknowledges, is that shopping generates traffic, but he suggests it's a matter of degree. "A modest expansion won't adversely affect traffic, and would strengthen the Borough's tax base."

"The key is how the parking problem gets solved. There is some evidence that the parking problem does keep people away — when the Mine Mountain sporting goods shop left Nassau Street, that's what they said. And there is no question that the malls are indeed causing economic problems for stores here in Princeton."

TURN HERE: Princeton's newest road, the jug-handle leading across Route 206 into the Mountain Avenue Extension, makes a pleasing pattern from an airplane. The view is north, and the white match-sticks laid out so neatly in the upper left are parking spaces in the new Community Park North lot. The playing fields of Community Park South are at the bottom and right.

John P. Moran
A Long Look at the Future

Palmer Square

Answers Needed on Garage. At the moment, Palmer Square, Inc., in which the University owns controlling interest, is waiting to see what the Borough does about a municipal parking garage. Mayor Robert W. Cawley has said he hopes for a garage decision by December 31. PSI's plans to expand its complex of apartments, offices and shops into its northern properties can't move through the procedural channels until a municipal garage decision has been made.

Palmer Square West, as it exists right now, has about 30,000 square feet of shops. Expansion plans would add about 30,000 more square feet of retail space, Mr. Moran says, adding that the expansion is about half what the Borough's present CBD Master Plan allows.

Mr. Moran and his colleagues at the University and in the offices of PSI are watching the calendar and the clock. If things move too slowly at the municipal level and interest rates climb too high, PSI expansion may not be feasible.

"Twice, we've put a major effort into expansion," Mr. Moran recalls. "First, there was the sewer moratorium and interest rates went up. This time, we've been working continuously over the past 18 months, meeting with church groups, citizens, making presentations at the Nassau Inn — remember, we dropped the idea of moving the U. Store."

A Major Question. He pauses for a moment, then adds thoughtfully:

"I'm not sure the University trustees would be willing to do it a third time."

This interest on the part of the University in the CBD and future planning, dates back to the late 1960s when citizens were invited, at municipally sponsored meetings, to say what they wanted in Princeton. At that time, even, there was worry about the CBD. Robert F. Goheen, then president of Princeton University, promised the institution's cooperation.

The University's concern regarding the CBD has, Mr. Moran says candidly, two selfish motives:

"To attract students and faculty, it's important for us to have a Princeton with a healthy, lively and attractive CBD across the street from the campus.

"Also, we have an enormous investment in buildings. If the downtown deteriorates, it's very serious for us. We're here — forever!"

It's quite conceivable, he says, that if nothing can be worked out with municipal officials, the PSI land would simply be sold. With quiet emphasis, he underscores that he is not making a threat; it's just that what PSI has now, isn't the most efficient use of its land.

That brings in the question of PSI's management. Day-to-day involvement in running "the Square" on the part of University officers is just too demanding, he explains.

"...and I'm not sure we're the best ones to do it, anyway. We're subject to pressures from town and merchants."

Not in the Black. A professional firm, the University believes, can go out and find the right kinds of shops, and manage the whole complex more efficiently than University officials are able to do.

"PSI is not earning money, and it should. It needs to be run like a business, and this shouldn't be a cause for worry on the part of either merchants or shoppers."

Residents who are afraid that an outside, big-city firm may bring in "non-Princeton" shops, needn't worry, Mr. Moran assures.

Walter Levy Associates of New York, the University's consulting firm, will make a broad survey in the community, asking people what kinds of shops they want.

Lots of Asphalt

"We may have blotted out in our minds how very unattractive the present black-top parking lots really are," is the observation of John P. Moran, vice-president of facilities for Princeton University.

A calculation of square footage shows approximately 345,930 square feet of black-top used for core area parking lots — about eight acres.

Footage includes the South Tulane (and Lahiere rear) lot; the lot adjoining the library; Palmer Square East and the entire Chambers Park-and-Shop lot, which is under several ownerships. The whole of Palmer Square north, including the Playhouse Theatre building, measures 193,276 square feet. Subtracting 6,000 square feet for an estimated size of the theatre leaves about 187,276 square feet of black-top for that area.

Calculations do not include the Park Place lot behind Davidson's, Trinity Church lot or the lot off Moore.

"We had wide discussions with people when our model was on display in The Nass," Mr. Moran says. "We asked people what they'd like, and we think the Levy survey will turn up the same kinds of things."

"...a good bakery, a tastefully — done fast food place, clothing in a contemporary vein, stores that cater to the gourmet cooking interest, and of course, restaurants. Nothing startling, just things overlooked in the current market."

When a management firm for PSI is hired, Mr. Moran continues, a "PSI concept" will be agreed on by both parties. The firm won't be able to do just anything it might feel like doing. There will be an agreed-on plan, an agreed-on operating budget.

"Interest in the downtown and in the Nass has increased dramatically in the past year," Mr. Moran observes. "The CBD can indeed be lively and exciting — with housing, shops, entertainment, something going on all the time."

"Deterioration can happen very easily," he warns, returning to his initial comments, "but I think we can keep the CBD attractive."

AID SQUAD TO MEET

Public Invited. The six problems that were identified by members of the Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad Committee at its first meeting will be discussed again when the Squad Committee meets this Thursday from 5:30 to 6:30 p.m. at the Squad House, North Harrison Street.

The public is invited to attend, and to comment after committee members themselves have made reports.

As Squad members see the situation, the chief problems are finding a volunteer staff, dispatching, gasoline, workmen's compensation, operating expenses and training. The subjects will be discussed by Edwin Oberl, Kate Litvaek, Richard Woodbridge, Bonnie Wagner and William Cherry, who constitute the new First Aid and Rescue Squad Committee.

At Thursday's meeting, the group expects to elect officers and plan ways to attack the problems.

Of The Town

CANDIDATES READY
For Consolidation Vote.
Sates are all set — and in the Township, it's "no contest" — for election of members to a Consolidation Study Commission, assuming citizens of Borough and Township decide on November 7 that such a Commission should be established.

Each of the two Princetons will have five members on the Commission. John Huntoon, 65 Jefferson Road, has filed as one of the Borough candidates, making six in that municipality. In the Township, there were six candidates but one has withdrawn, and now there is no contest.

Borough candidates, besides Mr. Huntoon, are Peter Bearse, Charlotte
Gipson, Arthur Morgan,
William Selden and Nicholas
Van Dyke.

The Township candidate who withdrew is Nancy DiMeglio. Although she had announced that she would run, she said this week that the demands of her business — she owns a children's clothing shop — made it necessary for her to withdraw. She added, however, that she continues to support the Commission and will help in whatever way she can.

The five Township candidates are Jay Bleiman, Margaret Broadwater, Dean
Chace, James A. Floyd and W.
Harry Sayen.

If voters in both municipalities approve formation of a Commission to study the wisdom of consolidating Borough and Township into a single community, the Study Commission will begin its work shortly after election.

It will have broad powers to carry out its investigations, and may form subcommittees to assist its members. The New Jersey Department of Community Affairs will also offer help.
The group must make its final report by August, 1979. It may, or may not, recommend that the two Princetons consolidate.

If it does recommend consolidation, it must also recommend a form of government. The question of whether to consolidate under the recommended plan would then be submitted to the voters of both municipalities at the November election next year. A majority of the voters in each municipality would have to approve in order to effect consolidation.

CAMERA! ACTION!
Movies? Here? "Princeton Township — the Hollywood of Central New Jersey."

Well, why not? It's got history, pretty scenery, stately homes, a broken-down bridge, a battlefield and a football stadium.

Besides, movies in New Jersey are the big new thing.
"The Eyes of Laura Mars," "Voices," "Kingdom of the Gypsies" and something called "Soap Factory" were all shot in New Jersey. Not, of course, in Princeton Township, but wait 'til next year!

New Jersey's Motion Picture and Television Development Commission is writing around asking various towns if the like to sign up.
All you have to do is pass a resolution, appoint somebody to be "local liaison," and you're on your way.

Discussion of the Commission's proposal may enliven the work session for Township Committee at this Wednesday's meeting. In any case, it's on the agenda.

An Advance Look. The Commission would like to see 35mm color slides with "the look and feel of your community." The executive director points out that what a town may regard as an eyesore may be just the setting for a little picaresque action.

He'd also like to know about restaurants, transportation, hotels, major industries, amusement parks (now, there!) and so on and so on.

What's in it for the town?
Well, movie people get hungry and eat in restaurants, they ride buses, buy clothes and postcards, etc.

Turning to another part of Wednesday night's scenario, Committee will introduce an ordinance changing parking regulations on two streets near the Medical Center — Carnahan Place and Henry Avenue.

On Carnahan, only two-hour parking will be allowed, and parking overnight will be prohibited. On Henry, parking will be prohibited on the north side, where most of the

Remember 'Moonchildren'?

This Saturday at 1:30 p.m., the new CBS-TV program, "30 Minutes," will devote half its time to the "Moonchildren" fracas of last spring at Princeton High School.

Footage was shot at the unexpurgated presentation of the play given at the Unitarian Church in Princeton, and interviews with some of the students and teachers involved were also filmed there.

"Moonchildren" had been planned as a student production to be given in Princeton High School;
however, Principal George Petrillo ruled that it could not be presented unless some of its words were omitted. The playwright gave his reluctant consent, and the play, in altered form, was presented at the high school. It was then given, as written, at the church.

residences are. At present, it is prohibited on the south — or hospital — side.

Public hearings will be held as follows: parking regulation on Mountain Avenue Extension, Dorann Avenue
drainage project, amendment to park regulations, appeals under the land use ordinance and alternate membership on the Zoning Board.

Bunn Drive construction assessments will also be up for public hearing.

PHASE-IN HEARING

Date Finally Set. Almost two years ago, Princeton Township, later joined by other New Jersey municipalities in the same situation, appealed the Superior Court decision that retained the so-called "phase-in" of a new system for sharing school costs in a regional district.

Hearing on that appeal will be held this Thursday before the Appellate Court, according to word from David Goldberg, attorney retained by the Township to handle the case.

If the municipalities win—both in this court and the Supreme Court, assuming the question is considered there—it could mean around $1 million for the Township, in the estimate of Administrator
Joseph R. Nini.

When the state began requiring that school districts provide a "thorough and efficient" education for each child, the formula for sharing school costs among the towns in a regional district like Princeton's, was changed from a per-pupil basis, to a rateables basis.

In an effort to ease the transition for towns like Princeton Borough that would have been dealt a severe financial blow, the state legislature passed a law phasing in the new requirement over a five-year period.

The Scales Swing. But this tipped the balance the other way. At the time—May, 1976—Township officials estimated that phase-in meant another 12 or 13 cents per $100 of assessed valuation for taxpayers.

The Township took its case to court. Superior Court Judge George Y. Schoch agreed with Jay Bleiman—then mayor of the Township—that the phase-in law is unconstitutional, but he said there is precedent for keeping a law on an interim basis, even though it is unconstitutional.

It was this decision the Township appealed. The phase-in has about two more years to run.

LEASE TO BE GRANTED
For Princessville Inn. The Lawrence Historical Society has won its four-month fight to save the historic Princessville Inn on Princeton Pike.

According to Lawrence Township manager George Gottuso, the Township Council voted in executive session to grant a lease to the Historical Society for the 165-year old building. The transaction is expected to be formally approved Wednesday night. The lease will probably be a nominal one dollar a year.

The historical society has sought since last June to renovate the ramshackle structure which once served as a tavern, hotel and meeting hall. Karen Cermele, secretary, said the group will try initially to raise $25,000 from private donors to renovate the building and to replace heating and plumbing systems. The group now has $4,000 from donations and pledges of another $3,000 worth of volunteer services, she said.

Mrs. Cermele said the society eventually hopes to put a first-class restaurant on the building's top floor, for dinner by reservation only. Other plans include a tea room in the northern end, the oldest section of the building a lecture hall available for rent, a museum of Lawrence memorabilia and an efficiency apartment.

The township, which paid $300,000 for the property last year, including $150,000 in federal funds, is expected to retain control of most of the 25 acres surrounding the old inn. The Council had voted last June to let the fire company burn the inn for a practice drill, but the historical society protested.

ANSWER POSTPONED
On Lombardo Application. The question of whether a Planning Board member may submit his own application for consideration by the board, even though he disqualifies himself, remained unanswered this week.

Board member Martin P. Lombardo asked that his application regarding the property at 53 North Tulane be removed from Tuesday night's October agenda and postponed to November.

Meanwhile, members of the board constituting an ethics committee are considering the question in its broader aspects, as well as the way in which it might apply to Mr. Lombardo. A report may be ready next month.

Last month, as Mr. Lombardo's application came up on the agenda, board member Jerome Rose declared that no one who invests in real estate in Princeton should serve on the Planning Board. If the board heard an application from one of its members, Dr. Rose said, the public might suspect "a cozy relationship" among board members.

Mr. Lombardo replied by saying he was resigning from the board. Later, however, Mayor Robert W. Cawley and members of Borough Council — unanimously — joined successfully in urging Mr. Lombardo to remain.

QUICKER SHORT-CUT?
To Bridge Re-Opening. A procedure which could shorten by eight weeks the starting time for repair work on the Stony Brook bridge over Mercer Street may be set up this week.

Mercer County Freeholders — who control the bridge — have approved emergency resolutions to speed reconstruction of the old bridge, closed since last May because county engineers regard it as unsafe for travel.

Freeholders have approved an emergency appropriation of $90,000 to prepare plans and reconstruction specifications. In addition, Freeholders agreed to a bond ordinance appropriating $290,000, and authorizing the issuance of bonds amounting to $275,000. (The original $90,000 emergency funding will be repaid from the bond sale and will not affect the county's upcoming budget.)

Weidinger Associates have been awarded a professional services contract amounting to $39,000 for engineering services on the bridge.

Choice of Three. This week, according to Freeholder Barbara Sigmund — who engineered the "emergency" resolutions that will speed construction — three contractors will be called in to meet with the Weidinger firm. Although, under the emergency designation, the county may pick any construction firm it wishes, Mrs. Sigmund said the county prefers to obtain estimates from three contractors in order to be able to choose the least expensive.

the Mercer County administration," Mrs. Sigmund said, "that it will try to work out an innovative process in terms of design and construction that will enable the contractor to start work eight weeks earlier than would be possible otherwise."

It is estimated that repair work will take 16 weeks, although this four-month period may be lengthened because of winter.

County engineer Donald Harney continued to maintain last week that the old bridge should be torn down and replaced with a modern, four-lane bridge or one with two lanes and a 30-foot width that would straighten the curves. The present bridge is 22 feet wide. It is possible that reconstruction may mean narrowing it still further.

Building a new structure could take as long as five years, Mrs. Sigmund said.

SPORTS SALE DUE

At PDS. The annual Princeton Day School Sports Sale will be held Saturday from 10 to 2 at the school rink on the Great Road. Everything from hockey skates to lacrosse sticks will be available at far less than the original price.

The sale is designed to provide a clearing house for used athletic equipment of all kinds. All items must be in good condition; those with a minimum value of $10 may be offered on a consignment basis.

Additional donations or consignments may be brought to the PDS rink between 8 and 12 through Friday or from 3:30-5 on Wednesday.

Co-chairmen are Mrs. James J. Daubert and Mrs.

SPORTS ENTHUSIASTS: Chris McCabe, left, and Tom Rossmassler are laden with the sports equipment that will be available at the PDS Sports Sale on Saturday.

Edward J. McCabe Jr. Committee chairmen include Mrs. Connie Fleming, Mrs. Pierce Lonergan, Mrs. Toms B. Royal, Mrs. Frederick H. Landmann, Mrs. Newell D. Woodworth, Mrs. Thomas S. Fulmer, Mrs. A. Vernon Shannon Jr. and Mrs. Erwin Donath.

FOUR CARS DAMAGED

By Vandals. Four cars parked in a Westminster Choir College lot were damaged Saturday night by a vandal who used a baseball bat to break the windshield of each. The windshield wipers of the cars were also broken off, police said. The bat was found in the grass near one of the cars.

The police investigation revealed that several other cars had suntan oil and toilet paper thrown over them. Ptl. David Funk investigated.

COUPLE IS CHARGED

After Drug Raid. John Unsworth, 20, and his 18-year old wife, Margaret, have been charged by Borough police with possession of marijuana and growing marijuana.

The two were arrested after Det. Timothy Huizing, Ptl. Peter Hanley and Officer Monica Sheehan executed a search warrant issued by Judge Philip S. Carchman for the couple's apartment at 2 Dickinson Street. The raid was conducted Thursday evening.

Capt. Theodore Lewis reported the arrests followed a police investigation and that the two had allegedly been growing marijuana outside a window. They were later released pending their appearance October 18 in Borough court.

AFTER MONTH'S DELAY

Speeder Is Arrested. Alouisus Goossen, 25, 223 Mt. Lucas Road, was arrested Friday by Montgomery Township Police in the Montgomery Center on Route 206 on the request of Borough police who had a warrant for his arrest.

On August 27, Borough Ptl. Randy Sutton had attempted to stop Mr. Goossen for speeding on Nassau Street. The suspect escaped but Ptl. Sutton reported he recognized the driver and issued a warrant for Mr. Goossen's arrest, charging him with eluding a police officer, speeding and improper display of license plates.

On Friday, Ptl. Sutton observed the suspect's car in the Montgomery Center and notified Montgomery police.

Rabies Clinic Scheduled

The Borough and Township Health Department will hold its annual Rabies Clinic on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, October 12, 13 and 14 at Community Park Pool. The times will be 3-6 on Thursday and Friday and 9 to noon on Saturday.

All dogs must be on a leash and accompanied by a responsible adult. A three-year vaccine is used; dogs that received rabies vaccine in 1976 or 1977 need not come to this clinic.

enter a Linden Lane home Saturday evening between 11:30 and 11:50.

Police said the victim left home for about 20 minutes and on her return discovered that a kitchen screen had been removed and a plant on a window sill placed in the sink. A bedroom screen on the same side of the house was discovered partially removed hut police said there were no signs that entry had been gained inside the house.

POCKETBOOK SNATCHED

From Stanworth Resident. A Stanworth resident on her way home from the nearby YM-YWCA had her pocketbook snatched Thursday evening by a thief who then fled north on Bayard Lane.

The victim was not injured, police said. She lost her tan purse with a gold leather wallet inside which contained $12 to $15. She described the snatcher as 5-7 to 5-10, medium build with dark curly hair.

TWO HOUSES ARE FOCUS
Of Historical Society Talk.
The first of the 1978-1979 evening lecture series sponsored by the Historical Society will be given on Tuesday at 8 in the Engineering Quadrangle. Prof. Robert Clark, a member of the Department of Art and Archaeology of Princeton University, will speak on "The Early Colonial Revival in Princeton," focusing especially on houses of the shingle style.

The two notable houses in this style are the James McCosh House at 391 Nassau Street and the William Berryman Scott House at 56 Bayard Lane. Both were designed in 1887-1888 by A. Page Brown, an architect who had earlier worked with the famous New York firm of McKim, Mead, and White. After opening his own office, Brown designed several buildings for the rapidly growing College as well as these private homes.

The McCosh House was built for President James McCosh on his retirement. President McCosh was responsible for enlarging Princeton College, as it was called then, with wider academic studies and more campus buildings which laid the groundwork for its future as a University. His wife is remembered for her untiring concern for students who fell ill, and the present Isabella McCosh Infirmary is a memorial to her.

The grey shingle house was originally located on Prospect Avenue and later became the Quadrangle Club before being moved to its present location. Architecturally, the house represents the shingle style in its mature neo-Georgian form which includes classical columns, shutters, and decorative cornices.

The more picturesque Scott House has complicated patterns in the shingles of its two towers, as anyone who has stopped for the red light on Bayard Lane must have noticed. At the time it was built, Scott was a young professor of palaeontology, one of President McCosh's

The public is invited and admission is free.

APPLE DAY PLANNED

For Second Year. Terhune Orchards will hold its second annual Apple Day on Saturday from 10 to 5 at the farm on Cold Soil Road. Pam and Gary Mount own and farm the 55 acres of apple, peach and pear trees.

Along with apples and freshly pressed cider for sale, there will be free hayrides all day and tours of the fruit growing operation at 10:30 and 2:30. Square dancing will take place from 12:30 to 4:30 with caller John Kaiser and the Rocky Hill Bluegrass Band.

The Mercer and Hunterdon County Weavers Guilds will participate in a sheep to shawl contest which will begin with raw wool and end with two shawls to be raffled off. There will also be a Terhune Orchards photography contest for pictures of country themes and another of Terhune Orchards scenes. First prizes in both categories will be $25 worth of apples or cider.

Hot dogs and apple baked goods will be available all day, and at 4 a giant air balloon will take people on tethered rides. The rain date is Sunday.

SHOW HOUSE TO OPEN

In Lawrenceville. The Old Davis House in Lawrenceville, has been selected by the Junior League of the Central Delaware Valley as the site for Designers' Show House 1978, to be held in October.

Designers' Show House is a display of the creative talents of more than 20 interior decorators from New Jersey, Pennsylvania, New York and Maryland. Each decorator will completely refurbish the room or rooms of his choice in a distinctive style or period, ranging from tradition to modern.

In addition to the designers' displays, the Show House will also feature a mural in the stair and hallway by William J. Hankinson, a free lance artist and designer artist for John Wanamaker of Philadelphia. In the garden will be the life size sculpture, "Lunchbreak" loaned by Seward Johnson, the founder of the Johnson Atalier Technical Institute of Sculpture.

Guests can also shop for unique objects and handicrafts in the Show House Boutique, and for unusual plants and flowers in the garden greenhouse. A gourmet luncheon will be served Monday through Saturday at a nominal cost.

Special events have been planned for selected days during the Show House. These events include a presentation and discussion of Oriental Artifacts by Sid Saperstein of Kalen's Fine Arts in Morrisville, Pa., a lesson in water color painting by Susan Swartz, a picture framing workshop by Al and Natalie Landsman of Magnolia, and a demonstration of silk and dried flower arranging by June Stewart of the Lawrence Road Florist in Lawrenceville.

Designer evenings will be held each Wednesday from 7 to 9, during which the individual decorators will be in their rooms to discuss their work and answer visitors questions. Wine and cheese will be served.

The proceeds will benefit the community service projects of the Junior League of the Central Delaware Valley, a women's volunteer organization which has been serving the Mercer and Bucks county areas since 1921. The League's past endeavors include support of the New Jersey Children's Home Society, assistance in furnishing the Trent House in Trenton, organization of the Child Guidance Center of Mercer County and financial aid to the Valley Day School in Yardley, Pa. Currently, the League is the principal force in child advocacy projects, Big Brothers and Big Sisters of Mercer County and establishment of the Vantage Point Runaway Shelter for girls in Langhorne, Pa.

The Old Davis House was built in 1834 and originally served as an elite seminary for young women. Rented

10 Air Conditioners ($2010), Sailboat ($1500), Ring ($3750), Aluminum Plank ($400) All Stolen

Ten window air conditioners, waiting to be installed in units at the Redding Terrace housing development on Mount Lucas Road, were stolen last week.

Township police report the conditioners, valued at $201.50 each, had been stored in the unit in which each was to be installed. Also taken were two circulating pumps worth $170 each. There were no signs of forced entry.

A 15 and one-half foot long 1976 Sidewinder sailboat with a 17-foot mast was reported stolen last week by Regina Pasche of Fox Run Drive, Plainsboro.

She told police that the $1,500 boat was evidently pulled ashore from its anchorage area at Lake Carnegie and moved. Police report the fiberglass sailboat had a white deck, lilac-colored hull and weighed 180 pounds.

In another Township theft, a Stockton Street resident told police that her pocketbook containing $10 was stolen between 1:30 and 6 p.m. Thursday while she was at an auction at the Italian-American Sportsmen's Club on Terhune Road. It was later recovered in another room, minus the money.

Two offices in Frick Lab on the university campus were entered between 1 and 1:30 Friday afternoon. Taken from one was a red leather shoulder bag which contained a maroon wallet with $265 inside. The pocketbook was valued at $15, stalled in units at the Redding Terrace housing development on Mount Lucas Road, were stolen last week.

A light tan leather jacket valued at $100 was taken from an adjoining office. Both victims were employees of the lab, police said.

A 14-year old Lawrenceville girl reported the theft of a $30 blue velour shirt from her unlocked pool locker at the "Y," and an East Brunswick resident lost 17 cents when her tan and black purse was taken early Sunday morning from the Tiger Inn foyer, 48 Prospect Avenue.

In a second theft at Tiger Inn, a black leather wallet with $18 inside and a $150 wristwatch were stolen from an unlocked room of a resident. University proctors reported the incident on Monday.

In Edwards Hall on the campus, an intruder entered a student's room while he was out to dinner and removed $3 in cash and $50 in yen. Police identified the senior as an Oriental.

A Princeton resident lost $5 when her pocketbook was stolen from her unlocked car while it was parked near 184 Witherspoon Street. The theft occurred Monday night.

A 40-foot aluminum scaffold plank, chained to a tree outside Hamilton Hall on the bright, the crowds were good and the fun and bargains right for Rocky Hill's annual fall festival and auction held Saturday at Panicareo Park.

Winner of the Perpetual Purple Moose Award (yes, actual purple antlers) for service above and beyond the call of duty, was the pick-up chairman, Gary Lott, who contributed countless hours and muscle-power to collecting and hauling items for the auction and white elephant booths. An American history teacher at Princeton Day School, Mr. Lott has been involved in some way with the Bid 'n' Boy every year for 13 years and been chairman of pick-up for the last two years.

The Best-in-Show Grand Prize in the produce contest went for the melon squash, entered by Bob Adamson from Skillman. Other produce winners and their categories were Maria Bianculli, zucchini; Alyson Murphy, watermelon; Jason Squitieri, cucumber; Nichol Briggs, oddball class cucumber; Joselyn Squitieri, sunflower; Jason Squitieri, black-eyed

Blawenburg's Steadily-Increasing Traffic Leads to Formation of Civic Group Here

Residents of Blawenburg, a small Somerset County community on Route 518 half a dozen miles north of Princeton, have formed the Blawenburg Preservation Association. It will provide a source of information about the history of the village and is expected to serve as a unifying force against the steadily-rising volume and speed of traffic through the village and the resulting noise and pollution, as well as danger to pedestrians.

Jane Szathmary has been elected president; Elizabeth Maest, vice-president; and Valerie Hartshorne, treasurer. Meetings will be held at regular intervals, a number of committees have been formed and are already at work on aspects of the traffic problem.

The growing rate of traffic along County Route 518 through Blawenburg has been a subject of concern to residents of the village for more than a decade. It was not until the 1960s that the village had a posted speed limit, which was finally established through the efforts of then Assemblyman Raymond Bateman after all other efforts had failed. Protests about the fast moving traffic and demands for enforcement of the speed limit appeared in many letters and editorial columns in "The Montgomery Citizen," a biweekly newspaper that served the township during the latter part of the decade.

Last year, residents' irritation was intensified by what they felt to be a heavy influx of truck traffic through Blawenburg from the new Johnson & Johnson diaper plant in Skillman. Their feelings led to a petition to members of the Montgomery Planning Board to retain the provision for a Blawenburg bypass which the board had included in an early Montgomery Township Master Plan but which it had considered dropping from the plan that is now being revised. Board members voted in August to retain the provision. The bypass would divert traffic on Route 518 around Blawenburg.

The silent auction booth drew unusual interest this year, with offerings of time, talent and services netting a record-breaking $1200.

Proceeds from the fair benefit educational and recreational activities of the Rocky Hill Community Group. A portion of the funds this year will go to replace trees in the proposed historic district on Washington Street. A special committee headed by John Murphy of Princeton Avenue is researching sites and buildings from Crescent Avenue to the Raritan Canal in preparation for their application to the state office on historic preservation.

SHRUB SALE SET

By Soroptimists. The semi-annual tree and shrub sale of the Soroptimist International is now under way, with delivery scheduled for Saturday, October 7, at Princeton Shopping Center.

Offered this year in one-gallon containers at $3.75 each are arborvitae, azaleas (crimson, white, and pink), andromeda, cotoneaster, hemlock, three types of holly (helleri, glabra and convexa), mugo pine, PJM (a cross between azalea and rhododendron), and sky rocket juniper.

Rhododendrons (roseums), balled and burlapped, are offered at $5 for 12-15" and at $6 (limited stock) for 15-18" specimens. In three-gallon containers at $7 are arborvitae, holly (helleri and Japanese), mugo pine, PJM, and a dwarf rhododendron, purple gem. Japanese black pine in a five-gallon container is available at $7.

Samples will be available for inspection. For more information, or to place an order, call Mrs. Betty Dukro, 921-7573, Mrs. Mary Reef, 924-4229, or Mrs. Ruth Schenck, 799-1771. Order deadline is September 30. Funds raised by the Soroptimist's semi-annual sales are used to support a variety of service projects.

and mind altering chemicals for a period of at least two months. The workshops are entitled "Choice and Change" and will be led by Esther Waxman.

The series will cover topics such as "What is Alcoholism," "Manipulation and Control," "Rutton Pushing," "Rebelliousness and Compliance," "Sex and Alcohol" and others. Sessions will be held Monday evenings from 7:30 to 9 at the Family Service office, 120 John Street, beginning October 23. Group size will be limited to 12.

Ms. Waxman was educated at the University of Bridgeport and Rutgers and Fordham Universities. A recovering alcoholic for the past 11 years, she received training at Smithers Alcohol Treatment and Training Center of Roosevelt Hospital in New York. Currently she is coordinator of out-patient services for the Addiction Recovery Unit of the Carrier Foundation.

The cost for the sessions is $89. A 10 percent discount is available for registration 10 days prior to the starting date. For further information, call Family Service, 924-2098.

Park Neglected by Borough.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

Twenty-five years ago Princeton was given a unique gift of 17 acres, the area now known as Marquand Park. Beautifully landscaped over 125 years ago by an English landscape architect and filled with splendid examples of many varieties of trees, this ready-made park and arboretum has provided pleasure, recreation and education for hundreds of local and out-of-town visitors.

In its present state we wonder where the Borough's sense of responsibility has disappeared to. Does it think adequate care is provided by mowing the grass and removing some of the storm damage? Much more than this is required to maintain living plants in a healthy and attractive condition. The one knowledgeable and experienced gardener who has been retained by the Marquand Park Foundation for the past 14 years, and who has just resigned in frustration, could not possibly carry out all the necessary attention alone. Cooperation is needed from the Borough staff, the police, and the public.

Neglect is clearly visible in stopped-up drains that result in chronic flooding, in misplaced railroad ties, in dead branches and sections of tree trunks ignored for months, and in general refuse. Everywhere vandalism has taken its toll in plants stolen or destroyed, most recently in the newly created wildflower garden which is now a shambles of uprooted plants and broken labels.

We earnestly request official, public and private attention to this state of affairs. Police patrols, advertised but unscheduled, would be a deterrent. The Engineering Department should replace the inadequate drains and keep the other drains and ditches open, the fences in order, and the grounds periodically checked over. The public can help by removing its debris, by reminding ignorant or unthinking visitors not to climb the trees or damage the plants, and by reporting vandals promptly to the police.

Parking Laws Are Wrong.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Public servants had an obligation to do what the people want. The failure on the part of Magistrate Phillip Carchman to allow the $1 rollback in parking fees is a clear and flagrant violation of the mandate, government for the people and by the people.

The fact that approximately 400 to 500 people from Princeton signed my petitions is a clear message to the administration of Princeton Borough, that Princeton Borough's strict parking policies should be changed. If anyone feels as strongly as I do that parking regulations in Princeton should be changed, I ask that they write me at 46 Vandeventer Avenue.

ETHAN FINLEY

Expert Advice Needed.

To The Editor of Town Topics:

I hope architects and planners will be urged to take part in the Council's series of public discussions of Princeton's downtown development.

If they will take assignments as panellists, discussion leaders, chalk talkers, tour leaders, debaters or whatever the occasion requires, the interaction among masters and with the public could be great. Otherwise, the whole series could be a clothesline show of amateur opinion with little practical consequence.

The public often has excellent judgment when offered a choice. After all, architecture serves the people and mothers the arts, but we rely on professionals to know about forms and traditions and currents into the future, about patterns of need, and materials, cost, building codes, ecology, the logistics of building, and so on.

Let the guild come in! These people deserve the spotlight now, and we'll be fortunate if they take it.

Planning Commended.

To The Editor of Town Topics:

Following is the text of a letter I have written to Mayor Cawley, Borough Council and the Regional Planning Board:

Your fresh start toward the appropriate development of downtown Princeton is excellent. You deserve our appreciation.

Here are my incomplete, perhaps inaccurate or impossible, but hopeful suggestions:

1. Planning should be accepted as a continuing development process, not as a final product embodied in a plan. Perhaps, a benefit of the recent conflicts may be the realization that we should move ahead incrementally, learning from our experience as we proceed step by step.

2. The four new developments which you have identified (the parking garages, the library expansion, the housing for the elderly, and the Palmer Square expansion) are all very worthwhile. They need not be in conflict with each other; indeed, they will be supportive of the downtown and the entire community.

3. One of Princeton downtown's advantages over competing shopping malls is the convenience of its on-street parking. For quick turnover, high intensity parking that is invaluable for supporting the local merchants, we should keep the on-street parking, even at the cost of slower traffic and periodic congestion.

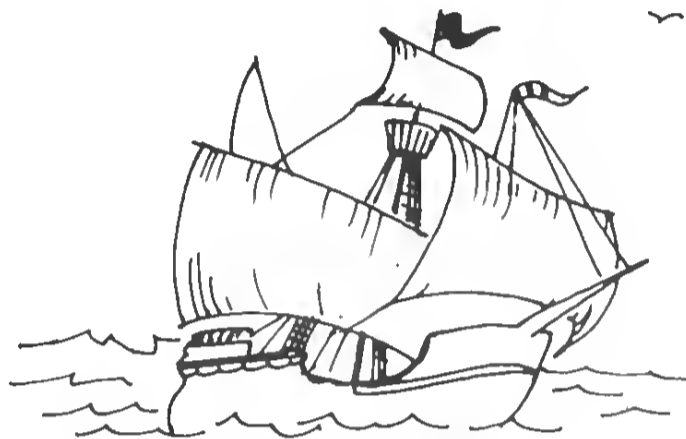

4. The parking garages should be dispersed, in deck garages that are designed for easy vertical expansion. Generally, the additional costs amount to a small percentage (perhaps 10 percent) only of the cost of the columns, not a significant factor in the

OBITUARIES

Philip M. Kissam

Philip M. Kissam, 82, emeritus professor of civil engineering at Princeton University, died September 28. He had been retired from the University since 1965.

A member of the Princeton Class of 1919, Prof. Kissam served on the university faculty for 44 years. In 1973 he was awarded the American Society of Civil Engineers' Surveying and Mapping Award for his "distinguished career in the areas of teaching, writing, and the practical aspects of surveying."

Among his many achievements, Prof. Kissam organized the New Jersey Geodetic Survey and wrote the nation's first law permitting the use of state plane coordinates in deeds, a practice subsequently adopted by 39 states. He was the author of more than 100 articles for professional publications and authored or edited seven books, two of which—"Surveying for Civil Engineering" and "Surveying"—were definitive works.

During his long teaching career Prof. Kissam gave courses in surveying, mechanics of materials, railroad engineering, highway and airport engineering, water supply and sanitation, municipal engineering, transportation engineering and photogrammetry.

Prof. Kissam entered Princeton in 1915 and later took time off for World War I, serving as a second lieutenant with the U.S. Air Service and

Tuesday Is Registration Deadline For Voting in November 7 Election

If you've moved, changed your name or not voted for four years, you must re-register if you want to vote in the November 7 election, and the deadline for registration is next Tuesday.

Borough and Township municipal offices will be open until 9 p.m. this Thursday and Friday and next Tuesday. You must be at least 18 by November 7, a citizen of the United States and a resident of the county for 30 days.

If you're a student, you may use either your home address or your college residence as your voting address.

If you're incapacitated or chronically ill, you can be registered at home if you send a written application, with doctor's affidavit to the County Board of Elections. If you cannot sign, you may make a mark.

Questions about voting or registration will be answered by officials at either Borough Hall (924-3119) or Township Hall (924-5749).

IT'S NEW

To Us

"SHOPS ON THE WALK"

Are Iris, At Home, Shibui. A gala celebration on Saturday feted a new location for Shibui, a grand opening for At Home and a first year's anniversary for Iris. These "Shops on the Walk" also celebrated the completion of "Chambers Walk," a delightful brick passageway between Witherspoon Street and Palmer Square.

The walk permits access to a new shop, occupied by Shibui, allowing people to walk through Shibui, At Home and out Iris' front door at 24 Witherspoon, or vice versa. The Alchemist and Barrister, with its new al fresco dining area, is across the walk from Shibui.

JAPANESE ANTIQUES

In Shibui's New Shop. Shibui has moved its treasures from Nassau Street to a charming new shop in a more central location at 24 Witherspoon and Chambers Walk. Blue and white and Color Imari, Kutani and Nabeshima porcelains, pottery examples from the ancient kilns of Bizen, Tamba, Seto, Shigaraki and Tokoname, are shown in the collection of Japanese ceramics.

Jade, ivory and lacquered pieces, Tansu chests, exquisitely embroidered Japanese kimonos, ancient musical instruments and many decorative oriental accessories are also on display.

The shop has been skillfully arranged by Joanne Mohrman, owner, and Betty Steele, manager, to create the atmosphere of a gallery and is intimate in feeling. Dark gray shelves and walls provide a muted background for the artistically presented objects of ancient beauty. Two sofas and a coffee table offer hospitality, a place to chat, or quiet repose.

Japanese Porcelains. Shibui has two handsome chargers in two-color Imari, 16 inches in diameter, that are collectors items. Imari hibachis with scenic designs make impressive containers for plants. Antique bowls in mint condition are a blue and white Imari bowl with a lavender and green chrysanthemum design, circa 1850, a Color Imari bowl in an octagonal shape, circa 1820, and a blue and white bowl with a peacock design on a scalloped base, all with unusually attractive outer designs. Porcelains $10 to $500.

Oriental Furniture. Splendid Tansu chests from Japan with simple lines include a miniature Tansu chest in kiri wood with several small drawers, and a large Tansu with a finish similar to American cherry. Dark and light wood was combined to make a Tansu of a delightful and portable size, with simple iron fittings and its own key. Paired two-drawer Tansu chests with ornate iron locks and end handles can be used separately or stacked, chest on chest. Tansu prices: $500 to $1300.

Decorative Accessories. Among the many fascinating objects at Shibui are bronze temple bells, in ornate shapes, a little vanity chest with its own silver mirror, Sumi paintings in scroll form, and Japanese shrines in sedate or ornate cabinets. Ancient musical instruments exhibited are a very fine Koto, a mandolin type Biwa and a Chinese version of a hammer dulcimer. Be sure to see the damask obi with delicate embroidery over a hand-painted design, which would make a sumptuous wall hanging for a formal living room.

Appealing Choices. Japanese kimonos with their rich embroidery, breath-taking colors and designs, can be very appealing as luxurious evening gowns and coats, $200 to $500. Other objects in demand are the accessory size bowls and plates that make distinctive gifts, $10 to $50. Scroll weights in Kutani and Imari porcelain may hang on a highboy key, be used as shade pulls or dangle from the ends of a belt, $26.50 a pair. Americanized obi belts, salvaged from lovely old obis, are perfect to wear with evening skirts or pants, $35.

Shibui Appearances. Shibui's Japanese antiques will be on display at the antiques show of the Community Congregational Church in Short Hills, N.J., October 3, 4 and 5. Also in October, Shibui will be represented by several pieces in a small living room decorated by Ginger Budd for the designer's showcase in Lawrenceville. Shibui will again be a part of the Wellesley Club antiques show at Princeton Day School in March and the antiques show at the Brandywine Museum at Chadds Ford, Pa., in May.

Shibui's hours in Princeton are Tuesday through Saturday, 10-6, Thursday until 8:30.

INFORMAL FURNISHINGS

Offered by "At Home." At Home and The Gallery is a spacious new shop offering one-stop shopping for home-ware and gifts. You'll find it located at 24 Witherspoon and Chambers Walk, behind Iris and next to Shibui. The huge carpeted area, with its 12 foot ceilings, is colorful with bedspreads, rugs, baskets, stools, pillow chairs, glassware, china, lamps and bookcases — basic essentials for students and young careerists setting up a new place, or offices and homes wishing to update their decorating at a moderate cost.

The Gallery is a quiet corner of At Home with changing exhibitions by talented crafts people, showing good designs, reasonably priced. The Gallery also gives the shop's customers the added experience of seeing a variety of fresh, new art forms, and in turn, provides a showcase for aspiring artisans in the New Jersey area. The opening exhibition from September 30th through November 11th will feature glass by Andrea Becker and Art Reed, glass blowers, Ann Tsubota's clay works and Richard Kemble's collage.

Baskets and Stools. Baskets, also a crafts form, are imported from all over the world to use as laundry hampers, plant containers, wastepaper baskets, serving trays, office organizers and treasure boxes; 90 cents to $24. Moorah stools from India, in three sizes, serve as seats, tables, or planters; $20 to $42. Rattan stools with basket weave tops, in three graduated sizes, are tables, seats or form an etagere when stacked.

Bookcases and Shelves. A three-shelf, collapsible bookcase of unfinished beech is easily transported and designed for stacking, $45. Knockdown shelves in packages containing uprights, shelves and pins can be put together in a few minutes; basic unit, $55. Slatted wooden hanging shelves are shown as dish drainers, flatware racks and a wine rack that holds both wine glasses and bottles, $8 to $22.

Chairs. Comfortable pillow chairs consist of a frame, pillow seat and back bolster and are available in two sizes, plain colors or prints, $55 to $68. Well-designed, folding wooden chairs are $20 to $33.50. To rock and relax, try the folding Panama rocker in natural wood with brown or natural canvas, $45.

Bedspreads and Rugs. Cotton bedspreads from India in a choice of lightweight materials or a heavy woven style are $9 to $30. Large Egyptian peasant rugs are $152 - $190. Cotton rugs from India and Pakistan in a variety of sizes are also used as bedcovers or wall hangings; $18 and up.

Glass, China, Cookware. A collection of glasses and stemware contains an all-purpose wine glass for $1.75. Attractive and inexpensive dinnerware is also stocked. The Dura-Ware pots and pans are straight-sided heavy aluminum made for commercial use.

Lamps, Quilts. Lamps include an apothecary standing lamp, $20, a music stand lamp, $21, a clip-on lamp, $13.50 and a desk apothecary, $13. A surprise find are the professional movers' pads in quilted cotton in solid colors and prints with many imaginative uses. 72 x 72, $14; 72 x 80, $16.

Nancy Browder is owner of At Home. Pamela Sherin is manager. Store hours are 9:30 to 6, Monday through Saturday; Thursday until 8:30 p.m.

TRENDY NEW FASHIONS

Shown at Iris. You can have a complete wardrobe of the latest fashions at a moderate cost by shopping at Iris. Blouses, sweaters, skirts, vests, jackets, pants, in soft colors such as seafoam, mauve, raisin and soft fabrics such as chenille, jersey or brushed flannel are shown in contemporary styles you'll find hard to resist. Hats, handbags, belts, scarves, sterling jewelry and On State Cosmetics are offered to complete your fashion image.

Separates. Vests are considered an important mark of fashion and a clever way to update last year's clothes. You'll see them at Iris in crocheted seafoam, plum chenille, forest green corduroy, channel quilted black brocade, rich suedes in camel and brown, and lush velours and velvets. A wrap and tie outerwear vest in heather or wine wool blanket fabric will keep you trendy and warm. Vests $14 to $60.

Catering Service Can Provide Your Dish: From Vegetarian Fare to Gourmet Meals

You can enjoy a weekend of gourmet meals, give a sumptuous party with gourmet food, store a cache of gourmet goodies in your freezer for drop-in guests, without shopping, cooking or washing a pot or pan, through the expert service of Freeze and Breeze. Deliciously different hors d'oeuvres, soups, entrees, desserts, can be ordered by phone and delivered free of charge in the Princeton area. Large parties can be catered with three weeks notice, including table decorations, epicurean food and provisions for service.

You'll be dealing with two delightful women, Carol Ackerman and Ronnie Trock, who use the best quality and most natural foods available, some from their own gardens and fruit trees. Cooking together in each other's kitchens, they concoct delicacies with imagination and flair. Colors, textures, tastes are carefully considered in presenting delectable foods you'll take pleasure in eating and be proud to serve.

Freeze and Breeze can prepare everything from the simplest vegetarian dinners to fanciest continental cuisine that complements the season. A summer supper for 70 people included assorted hors d'oeuvres served in wicker baskets lined with tulip leaves, white meat chicken salad garnished with green grapes and slivered almonds, rice salad with vinaigrette sauce, ratatouille and a selection of small dinner rolls; dessert was seasonal fruits marinated in kirsch with homemade pecan balls, meltaway shortbread cookies and lace gaufrettes. A fall menu might begin with a medley of pates and a hearty soup.

At Christmas, Carol and Ronnie create elaborate traditional confections such as Buche de Noel decorated with sugary "snow" and meringue mushrooms, a croquem-bouche drizzled with chocolate glaze, presented in its own wicker tray, Linzertorte, one of Austria's most famous desserts, beautiful homemade cookies and meringue mushrooms in their own mushroom baskets. Swathed in red and green tissue, all would make thoughtful and appreciated Christmas gifts. Baskets containing an assortment of Freeze and Breeze delicacies can be made up for gift giving.

The Princeton Gourmet carries the devastatingly rich and moist French chocolate cake with chocolate glaze from Freeze and Breeze, their "New York's finest cheesecake" and a variety of their eight inch quiches in whole wheat crusts. The Newcomers Club at the Y.W.C.A. will be in for a treat on November 21 when Carol and Ronnie demonstrate Freeze and Breeze's fantastic hors d'oeuvres. Pick up the phone and order a Freeze and Breeze treat for yourself; call Carol Ackerman 924-7789 or Ronnie Trock 921-9239.

It's New to Us

Pants are straight legged, fitted snugly or given a dressier look with pleats at the waistline. Iris shows them in blue denim or narrow or wide wale corduroys, cotton drill and velveteen in black, navy and earth tones. Pants, $27 to $42. Skirts are the slimmer wraps, flares and dirndls in plaids, solids and flowered challis.

Jackets go to all lengths for fashion. Two new jackets are a two-button hacking style and a shorter, wrist length jacket in brown suede with a companion vest and slim straight skirt with front slit. A waist length spencer jacket, proportioned to the longer skirts, comes in olive corduroy; a handsome blazer in a longer, unconstructed style is made from beige tweed and fully lined. Jackets $38 to $74.

Heavier, outerwear jackets include a quilted herringbone twill with shawl collar in natural or wine, and a green corduroy with a bottom drawstring and a stand-up collar. Sweatshirt fabric makes a more formal appearance in a shawl collared, double breasted jacket in khaki, brown, navy. Outerwear jackets, $35 to $85.

Tops take a shirt form in a putty or chestnut brushed flannel, an oversized top in beige and grey checks, and a style with a banded neck in beige flannel striped with neutral shades. Iris also has a collection of menswear shirts; $19 to $38.

Sweaters are collared, V-necked, crew necks, cowls in pullover and button front styles in crochets, chenille or fur blends. Cowl necked sweaters are shown in an array of colors — lilac, rose, mauve, raisin, chamois, gray, black, white — most with matching skirts. Sweaters, $26 to $60.

Accessories. A wide variety of accessories includes handbags from disco size to large carryall, textured or silk scarves, soft wool or felt hats, all wool berets, belts, and stockings by Berkshire and Mayer in sheers, seamed and textured styles. A collection of sterling silver jewelry offers many attractive choices. On

TAKING IT EASY "AT HOME": Pamela Sherin, manager of At Home, demonstrates the style and comfort of pillow chairs sold by this new store, an adjunct to Iris. The huge area is filled with a collection of informal furnishings—bedspreads, rugs, lamps, baskets, bookshelves, glassware and china—popular with young people setting up a new place and inexpensive decorating accessories for offices and homes.

Stage cosmetics are new at Iris in a full range of skin care products, make-up for face and eyes, nail polishes and cosmetic brushes.

Iris is at 24 Witherspoon Street. Nancy Browder is owner, Sharon Kooney is buyer, Nora Ridolfi is manager. Store hours are 9:30 until 6, Monday through Saturday; Thursday until 8:30.

BEAUTY AT IRIS can be achieved by selecting a wardrobe from the fashionable separates, dresses, accessories and outerwear, then completing your fashion image with On Stage cosmetics. Presented here by Sharon Kooney, buyer, the new line includes skin care products, make-up for face and eyes, nail polishes and cosmetic brushes.

Princeton Regional School HIGHLIGHTS

(The following information was researched and written by members of the Regional Schools PTO Council, and the opinions expressed are not those of TOWN TOPICS.)

"O Wednesday is a special day," Administrators preach, When teaching teachers try to teach Our teachers how to teach.

WEDNESDAYS HAVE changed a great deal since the original Wednesday programs were initiated, no longer are there "home groups" and "do-your-own-thing" sessions. That program developed into the RTP (Released Time Program) and dealt in most instances with the State's mandates on T&E tasks goals and objectives, plus curriculum review and coordination.

This year PGP (Personal Growth Program) supercedes the '77-'78 edition with an accent on making better teachers, improving learning, and accomplishing any T&E tasks that are assigned to the district PGP will disrupt the schedule to a lesser extent, since only five Wednesdays in the fall term are designated for early (12:45 pm) closing. The first of these days is October 18, and the following four Wednesdays (October 25, November 1, 8, 15) will be set aside for PGP. This will affect all students in all schools.

The spring term early closings for Wednesday are scheduled for March 21, 28, April 4, 25, May 2, 9, 16. In the offing are some suggested programs - workshops for staff and students, but plans are still in their infancy for this schoolwide first.

If you have these dates marked on the calendar, it may help in planning family excursions or, for working parents, having suitable care for younger children on those days.

ALL ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS and John Witherspoon Middle School will hold parent conferences on November 20, 21, 22, at the end of the first marking period - a return to the former practice of scheduling these days consecutively. Closings, as in PGP, will be at 12:45 pm, the high school schedule will continue with classes as usual.

PRINCETON HIGH SCHOOL'S pre-school classes are now enrolling children from the community for an October 24 opening. PHS students have been studying, observing nursery - age classes to discover more about child behavior and learning, and even have taught - one another - to develop lesson plans for the fall semester. There remain a few openings in the class for late twos (toilet - trained) as well as three and four - year - olds. For further information and enrollment forms, please call Mrs. Nancy Arcamone at PHS (924-5600). Though she is often busy with classes, she will return your call during a free period or after school hours.

SCHOOL DOESN'T STOP with June closing for everyone. The school offices remain open, and teachers quite often take the learners' seats. This past summer Mrs. DeBen, PHS Social Studies teacher, attended a workshop conducted by the Institute for Political and Legal Education. Its function was to explore curriculum materials and teaching techniques which were newly developed or had been used successfully in other school districts. PHS classes which have always found themselves in the midst of candidates and issues may now be even more deeply immersed in the local and state legal and political process - with help from the experts in our area.

Mrs. Goodman, PHS English teacher, came close to burning her candle at both ends with courses at Rider and Rutgers. The Rider workshop was for Journalism teachers, while the Rutgers study, sponsored by the New Jersey Writing Project, was a continuation of the writing work PHS began as a control school during '78-'79. On the latter, Mrs. Goodman reports: "We administered a grammar and usage test designed by ETS, two spontaneous writing samples, and attitudinal surveys in October and May. In analyzing the results, I found that my students grew considerably in both writing and grammar."

THE PRINCETON UNIVERSITY Art Museum's coordinator of school programs, Mrs. Gordon Turner, has named liaisons to all PRS schools for this year: CP Mrs. Kenneth Young, JP, Mrs. James S. Hill, LB-JW Mrs. W. M. Hooke, RS, Mrs. Dennis Elliot, and PHS, Mrs. Thomas George. PRS classes who took advantage of this opportunity last year were unanimous in their praise for the exhibits, learning, and the docents.

THE PERSONNEL OFFICE is compiling a list of substitutes for positions as elementary playground aides and office - clerical help. Both groups are paid hourly, you may put your name on file by calling 924-5600 and asking for Personnel.

Fabric Shop on Princeton Scene for 25 Years: 8th Grade Course in 'Home Ec' a Helpful Start

"To be able to visualize a fabric made up into a dress — that's a gift, and you either have it or you don't," and Lucille Carnevale, owner of The Fabric Shop, has it. With the broad, warm smile that is almost her trade mark, she admits it.

This week, The Fabric Shop is celebrating its quarter-century as a shop, although Lucille herself does not look as though that many years have gone by.

Not only 25 years, she points out, but 25 years in the same place — 14 Chambers Street — and, for Lucille, almost as many years as an active merchant participating in Princeton's business life.

On October 3, 1953, the two McCracken sisters — Lucille, and Eleanor McCracken Nelson — unrolled for the first time their bolts of wool and corduroy and shimmering blends.

They were more than just a couple of young housewives who thought it might be fun. Both had sewed for years. Lucille had worked in a dress shop and knew bookkeeping. Eleanor had worked in a fabric shop in Perth Amboy — it was the owner of that shop who helped the sisters start out on their own — and she had the small business advice of her husband, Bob, owner of Nelson's Glass Shop.

8th Graders Made Dresses. "We grew up in Perth Amboy, and the schools had the most fantastic home ec department," Lucille recalls. "Why, you made your own eighth-grade graduation dress! Home ec departments aren't strong in schools any more — the girls just don't learn how to sew. Besides, they wear jeans."

"Twenty-five years! And do you know, six kids were born to Eleanor and me in that time — she has four, I have two. Which I would not recommend. The pressures were unreal, just unreal."

After about 20 years, Eleanor decided she wanted to retire and in 1973, Lucille bought out her sister's interest, becoming sole owner on January 1, 1974.

Yes, there have been changes in 25 years. Those kids in their jeans made a notch in The Fabric Shop's business. But with characteristic optimism, Lucille says she thinks the pendulum is swinging back to skirts.

And more working women now, than 25 years ago. They don't have the time to sew or do fine tailoring. Lucille has found. But they are one reason Lucille emphasizes the quality of her fabrics.

Quality Should Be High. "It's time consuming to sew. If a working woman is going to give up precious leisure time, she deserves fabric that is above average in quality and I feel strongly about that."

The seamstress who is stuck in a seam gets above average help, too. Both sisters have always been friendly and generous with customers who bring in their problems.

"If you get stuck half way through, bring it in," Lucille grins. She is one of those working women who gives up precious time to sew, making all her own clothes and altering or adapting patterns to suit her taste and her fine Junoesque figure.

A TIME TO CELEBRATE: A silver anniversary is worth celebrating, and Lucille Carnevale, owner of The Fabric Shop, 14 Chambers, is marking the 25th anniversary of her business. The future? She hopes kids stop wearing jeans and go back to sewing dresses, and that the Borough builds a parking garage.

And, increasingly, in leisure time, she works with the 20 Nassau merchants group or with other downtown merchants. Together, 20 Nassau merchants asked the Borough to check parking meters along Chambers and Nassau to cut back the meter feeders who are, Lucille firmly believes, helping to hurt business.

"We really need a parking garage," she says, with equal firmness. "There just isn't ample parking for customers — and believe me, they let you know!"

"I can't understand, with this parking garage, how a handful of people not affiliated with the business district could be an authority on whether we need a garage or not. I'm going to attend these public meetings coming up, and make my views known: for the past four years, business just hasn't been what it was, and I attribute it to the parking problem."

Although the sisters' husbands have never been part of the enterprise, Lucille's husband, Anthony, did attend parking garage hearings with her. He's with A.T. & T., and is the brother of Borough Police Chief Michael Carnevale.

Lucille, of Scottish-Polish descent, marvels always at the closeness and warmth of her Italian husband's family.

"So unique! The way they cherish each other, and live and work together. The kids always seem to stay close, and live nearby. It's a relationship I can really envy."

In a kind of extended "family," Lucille feels equal warmth toward her helpers in the store.

"I have had beautiful people working here, and when they leave, I miss them. And such wonderful experiences with customers. These are the things that make everything — you know — right."

agency in New York City and do something comparable in Princeton that the idea took shape.

"There is a real art to poster art," says Mrs. von der Schulenburg, explaining that posters are created to announce an art show. Thus a true poster not only has highly colorful artwork representative of the artist to be shown, but also the time and place of the show.

Most of the posters at The Nassau Gallery are of 20th century artists such as Matisse, de Koonig and Van Gogh. Some are framed and hung against white walls, others are protected by plastic and are in bins, to be thumbed through. Some are higher priced silk screen prints or come in limited editions, others are readily available and affordable.

Mrs. von der Schulenburg says that through her travels and contacts with relatives in Europe, the shop has access to direct imports from Europe. She and Mrs. Speir alternate days in the shop, which has hours similar to those of an art gallery — 10:30 to 5:30 Tuesday through Saturday.

TRouble Speaking?

"Toastmasters" Calms You Down. Men and women who have to stand up and not only be counted, but have their words count for something, are invited to an organizational meeting of a local chapter of "Toastmasters International" to be held Thursday, October 12, at 8 p.m. at the Holiday Inn, Route One, Princeton.

The Toastmasters organization teaches the techniques required to speak before an audience: how to construct a speech, how to use "word pictures," how to be persuasive, and so on.

Use of humor, how to listen, the techniques of making conference and meeting arrangements, how to conduct a business meeting, parliamentary procedure and similar topics are all part of the program.

Toastmaster members take turns as masters of ceremonies, group discussion leaders or heads of committees, gaining experience in conference, convention and program arrangements.

The group, which is being organized under the leadership of William and Gladys Beggs, Princeton Junction, will be a chapter of Toastmasters International, but will be a completely independent club with its own officers, committees and programs. The link with the parent group will provide opportunities to participate in regional and national events.

Find out how generous Uncle Sam can be. Get over 9% on government securities.

In 1968, The Government National Mortgage Association was formed. It quickly acquired the nickname "Ginnie Mae," and considerable interest from investors.

Here's why.

Because it competes for money, it offers you high yields. Over 9% in some cases. Because it's an agency of the U.S. Government, it's safe. So safe that both your interest and principal are fully guaranteed.

Ginnie Maes offer more than high yield and safety. Only $25,000 is required for a purchase of one security. Your principal and interest are paid back monthly.

There's more you should know about Ginnie Maes. For additional information, mail the coupon below, or call your local Paine Webber investment broker.

BECAUSE THEY WALK

By the Rev. Terry Grove
Director, N.J. CROP Program

Each year kids, youth and adults, over 300 people, walk on the streets of Princeton for CROP. It is a symbolic witness to the community about the plight of the poor in our world who have to walk for simple necessities of living -- medicine, water, firewood and jobs. You have seen these people, they are your neighbors. They carry signs that say, "Help CROP Stop Hunger." You see, they are committed to helping in the fight against hunger and poverty and human injustice both in the United States and around the world. And I for one applaud their commitment and generosity.

On October 15, the people will walk again for CROP and against Hunger. It is the Fifth Annual CROP Walk in Princeton. The past four years have been great both in numbers of walkers and in monies raised. The amount raised was $41,470. The Walk has been most successful in dramatizing the lifestyle of the poor to the people of Princeton. As a result the community at large has responded with funding over and above the walk so that in four years the money available to CROP from Princeton has been over $60,000.

Why do people Walk? There are many answers to that question. And I suspect each walker could share one with you. But I do hear over and over again a couple of answers. One is that people simply want to put their faith into action. They hear the call of God upon their lives to "do justice, to love kindness, and to walk humbly with God." Responding to the call helps to make a world that is a good place to live for all of God's creation.

Another answer to why people walk is that people feel that it is in their own best interest. A hungry world is an unstable world. It can explode into violence at any time. My own life and lifestyle can be taken away at any time in that kind of world. But a world that allows people to develop their own capacity for creativity and learning; a world that allows for opportunity to see a good future for oneself and family; ah, that is a world where strife is reduced and where justice and kindness can prevail.

I, for one, am very excited about the way people in Princeton respond to the needs of others. CROP is in fact one vehicle by which the entire community can work together on one of those needs -- World Hunger. Both the religious and the secular community can be seen walking side by side on Sunday, October 15. It will be a great sight!

If you want to be part of this Walk and the benefits that come from it, you can. Here is how. You can be a walker or even a jogger, who has sponsors that will pay him or her for every mile covered. You can be a sponsor and support the walkers. Or you can make a direct contribution to the Walk by sending a check to CROP, Box 214, Rocky Hill, NJ 08553. For more information write the above address or call 924-6466. We will be glad to have you part of the team. You will, I am sure, find fulfillment by being part of this important team.

REMEMBER THE DATE -- October 15, 1 p.m., starting at Princeton High School. Join Us!

RELIGION

In Princeton

ENGLISH ACTOR DUE

In St. Mark Reading. The English actor Alec McGowen is currently on tour with his highly acclaimed dramatic reading of the Gospel according to Mark. He will be in Princeton on Tuesday and Wednesday, November 14 and 15, at 8 in Alexander Hall.

Trinity Church has reserved a block of 200 seats for a benefit performance Tuesday night, November 14. The cost is $15 per ticket, including a $10 tax deductible contribution to Trinity, and there will be an after-theatre party in Pierce Hall. For information or reservations call the parish office, 924-2277.

McCart Theatre has tickets for both Tuesday and Wednesday nights, although the best seats are sold out for Tuesday. Prices are $7 (Wednesday only), $6, $5 and $4.50. The phone number is 921-8700.

CHURCHES PREPARE

For CROP Walk. In anticipation of the annual CROP walk for Hunger on October 15, nine Princeton churches are posting sign-up sheets and urging their congregations to take part, either as a walker or as a sponsor.

This Sunday at 10 some 15 to 30 kindergarten children from the Messiah Lutheran Church will hold their own mini-CROP

Walk for Hunger. Too small to join their elders on the 10 mile walk the following Saturday, these children will hold their own walk around the block on which Messiah Lutheran is located.

Trinity Church will hold a CROP Rally Sunday at 6-to help promote the Walk. Terry Grove from the New Jersey CROP office will speak, and there will be an "Iron-on Iron-in" to affix CROP decals to t-shirts.

Mayor Cawley is expected to proclaim October 15 as CROP Walk Day.

GUEST PREACHER DUE

At University Chapel. The Rev. Earl F. Palmer, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Berkeley, Calif., will be guest preacher at the Princeton University Chapel service, Sunday at 11. His sermon title is "First and Second Thoughts."

Mr. Palmer is a graduate of the University of California at Berkeley and the Princeton Theological Seminary. Since his ordination in 1956, he has served in the ministry at Seattle, Wash., where he was minister to students at the University Presbyterian Church; at Union Church of Manila, Philippine Islands, and since 1970 at his present position at Berkeley. He has taught at the Union Theological Seminary and St. Andrew's Seminary in the Philippines, the Pacific School of Religion in Berkeley, Fuller Theological Seminary in Pasadena, Ca. and Regent College in Vancouver, B.C.

The service is open to the public and will be followed by a coffee hour in Murray-Dodge Hall to give the congregation an opportunity to meet Mr. Palmer.

MISSIONARY TO SPEAK

At Westerly Road Church. Missions executive and author Don Richardson will speak on Sunday at the 8:30 and 11 a.m. worship services at Westerly Road Church.

A native of Canada, Mr. Richardson served as a missionary for 15 years among primitive headhunters in Irian Jaya, Indonesia (formerly Netherlands New Guinea). He has written two books about missions in Irian Jaya: "Peace Child," also condensed and published by "Reader's Digest" and now in movie form in 12 languages, and "Lord's of the Earth."

Mr. Richardson presently is Minister-at-Large for Regions Beyond Missionary Union and Director of Tribal Peoples Studies in the U.S. Center for World Mission in Pasadena, Cal.

For more information, call the church at 924-3816.

BULLETIN NOTES

The Feast of St. Francis will be celebrated with the traditional blessing of animals at Trinity Episcopal Church, 33 Mercer Street this Saturday at 5:30.

Pets and farm animals may be brought to the circle entrance of the church at 5:30. The Rev. Kenneth L. Schmidt will conduct the blessing prior to celebrating the regular Vigil Eucharist in the church.

"Religious Liberty Problems--a Report from Washington" will be the topic of presentation by Edd Doer at Princeton Theological Seminary on Thursday at 2. The talk, which is open to the public without charge, will be given in Stevenson Lounge, Campus Center.

Mr. Doer is director of educational relations for Americans United for Separation of Church and State and is a noted authority on church-state relations.

Mrs. Jan Oesterling of 16 Evergreen Circle is the new music director at the Prince of Peace Lutheran Church in Princeton Junction. Mrs. Oesterling graduated from Capital University in Columbus, Ohio, with a bachelor of music degree and also studied music at Western Michigan University. She has been a music teacher in an Ohio school system and a choir director in churches in Ohio, Michigan and at the Lutheran Church of the Messiah in Princeton.

The Messianic music of the group, Lamb, will be performed Thursday at 8 in Alexander Hall under the sponsorship of New Creature Concerts and Living Word, Inc. The group consists of two guitarists and singers, Joel Chernoff and Rick Coghill.

Their aim is to relay the uncomplicated and joyful music of the Messiah through the lyrics and music of each song. The group was formed in early 1972 and has sung on kibbutzim in Israel as well as before many people in the United States and Canada.

The Rev. Earl K. Connors will be the guest speaker Sunday at the Unitarian Church on Washington Crossing-Pennington Road, Hopewell Township. His topic will be "Facing Eternity."

Mr. Connors, now retired, served for 22 years as pastor of the First Baptist Church of Newtown Square in Pennsylvania. He is presently teacher, visitor and counselor at Davisville Baptist Church, Southampton, Pa.

At the October 12 meeting, a demonstration team from Toastmasters International will show the new group how to begin. No advance reservation is necessary, but additional information may be obtained from Mr. and Mrs. a Beggs at 924-4538.

PERSONNEL NOTES

Robert Ochis of Belle Mead has joined RCA Patent Operations at the David Sarnoff Research Center.

A native of Tenafly, N.J., Mr. Ochis received B.S. and M.S. degrees, both in Electrical Engineering, in 1966 and an E.E. degree in 1967, all from M.I.T. He received a J.D. degree from George Washington University School of Law in 1971. He worked for Rockwell International before joining RCA.

Ann M. Brower of 287 Nassau Street has joined John T. Henderson, realtors, as a senior sales associate. A resident of Princeton since 1959, Mrs. Brower has previously worked as a sales associate for Begg, Inc. Realtors in Washington, D.C.

She is married to Brock Brower, a journalist and novelist currently writing for "20-20" the ABC TV news magazine on the air. Mrs. Brower's Princeton activities include publicity for the Princeton Symphony, YWCA and the Hospital Fete and as a feature writer for the Princeton Packet.

She will be headquartered at Henderson's main office at 4 Charlton Street.

overall development plan. We should build the first garage as soon as possible, perhaps immediately, and monitor its use by shoppers and visitors.

Similarly, a remote parking and shuttle facility should be developed for employees, and its use monitored. Evaluations of the use of garage parking and the remote parking will serve as guides for the next steps in the development process.

5. A short, intensive urban design study should be undertaken, to focus the community's attention on some policy issues concerning our built-environment. For example, there are issues concerning the silhouettes (bulk and height) of buildings in the business district and the neighboring residential districts. In some cases, urban design issues arise out of practical, functional problems such as the location of truck service docks, or the shadows cast on yards and plaza areas. In other cases, the design issues arise out of symbolic considerations, such as the sense of being in front or in back, or the sense of being unwelcome or excluded from participation in the community. An urban design study can openly confront these issues, and suggest alternatives for your consideration.

Because our town center is a great joy to the community, and because our merchants deserve our support, we are faced with the difficult task of seeking two goals at the same time; that is, we seek both the conservation of the downtown, preserving its scale, harmony, variety and human pleasures; and at the same time, we seek its appropriate development to fulfill its potential for the economic, social, and physical well-being of the community.

ROBERT GEDDES
229 Mercer Street

BACK TO SCHOOL SET

At Chapin School. Chapin parents of students, grades K-8, are invited to a "Back-to-School" session on Sunday. Teachers will meet with parents in their children's homerooms and will describe the curriculum, discuss general school life and various activities, and answer questions.

The upper school parents will gather at 4:30 for their meeting and both lower and middle school parents will begin their schooling at 5. Following the classroom visitation, everyone will gather in the school library for a wine and cheese hour planned by the president of the Parents' Association, Mrs. Sally Worm.

Assisting her will be the executive board which includes Mrs. Jean Lindabury, secretary; Mrs. Marilyn Davies, treasurer; Mrs. Sharon Fagen, vice-president for lower school; Mrs. Lois Sommers, vice-president for Middle School, and Ms. Maryann Piefly, vice-president for upper school.

Library Closed Monday

The Princeton Public Library will be closed all day Monday in observance of Columbus Day. Books and other materials may be returned through the bookdrops at the entrance to the building whenever the Library is closed.

NO TIME TO WRITE your children at school? Send them a subscription to TOWN TOPICS so they'll have news from home regularly every week. Now through May, only $4.50. Call 924-2200, Mon. - Fri., 9 to 5. Payment in advance, please. 9-5-81

LET'S TALK ABOUT

MAPLES ARE DYING AS CROWNS BECOME THINNER

with Sam deTuro

Maples are in trouble. From Virginia north to deep in New England there is a great thinning of their crowns.

A few years ago their foliage was thick, dense with shade. New Red, Silver and Norway Maples especially, as well as Sugar Maples, have sparse, smaller than normal foliage. They have a sickly appearance that ranges from a slightly ill look to half dead. There is abnormal dieback, and leaf buds laid down this year for next year's foliage are runty than ever.

Prized Maples that grow on lawns can frequently be rejuvenated. This fall is the time to prune out the dead wood, and prune the entire tree to give it structural strength.

This should be accompanied by feeding. Feeding now, with the help of autumn rains, will help regenerate the root system. A well balanced, highly organic tree food will be drawn upon by the tree slowly as it needs it.

A tree well fed in the fall can go into winter with better anchorage and be able to make new growth early next spring. Buds that may be runty now may improve, and next spring burgeon, if tree vigor is restored.

HOUSE OF THE WEEK

PENNINGTON BORO

A classic one and one half story Colonial cape, custom built by Hunt and Augustine with particular attention to every detail. Entry hall, large formal living room with fireplace, dining room with window seat. Super efficient kitchen with adjoining family room, a fireplace, of course, master bedroom suite with bath and sitting room and fireplace. Separate mother-in-law arrangement consisting of living room, bedroom and bath on first floor. Four bedrooms and full bath on second. Add to this a large screened porch overlooking the garden-patio, attached two car garage, full basement with finished game room, and yes, a fireplace. It really is a must see! $197,500

REAL ESTATE IS A MOVING EXPERIENCE!

Have You Thought About Moving Up?

You work hard. And you may not make enough money. You need leads, listings, marketing tools. You may need us. Henderson offers the area's best marketing program, the largest advertising budgets, seven offices (3 more opening soon), more than 600 listings belonging to our offices. How would you like those at full commissions?

$15,000,000.00 in sales or contracts in the last three months alone.

Come talk to us. Ask for John Henderson. It may be a great move for both of us.

GET AWAY FROM IT ALL: COME TO A COLONIAL RETREAT JUST 22 MINUTES FROM PRINCETON

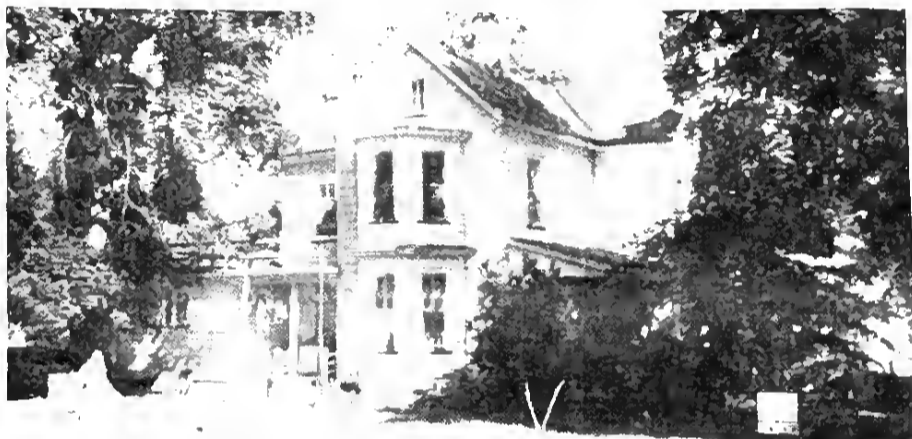

Picture yourself living in the real thing: a historic colonial village all your own backing up to a wonderful wide mill stream. The sense of belonging right there, of being surrounded by a quieter and more leisurely time, of authentic beamed ceilings, hand craftsmanship and tradition, wide floor boards, and wonderful warming old fireplaces as good for you now as they were back when. Each of these houses has been lovingly restored and updated with all the modern conveniences.

SOUTHWORTH, the main residence, dates from 1740, and features a beamed living room with built-in corner cupboard, a formal dining room with big old fireplace, a convenient kitchen, and a den overlooking the stream. Upstairs are three comfortable bedrooms and a studio room.

SOUTHWORTH COTTAGE, circa 1790, has a large living room, a dining room, and an eat-in kitchen, as well as two comfortable bedrooms and a full bath.

SOUTHWORTH QUARTERS, circa 1840 has a foyer, living room, den, and kitchen with dining area. Upstairs are two ample bedrooms, a bath and lots of storage areas. Situated on more than an acre overlooking a lovely old stream, Southworth is convenient to an easy commute to Princeton or for that matter to New York or Philadelphia via the Turnpike or Penn Central. The inground swimming pool (32' concrete) is just one of the many extras you must come see. As a working colonial investment, the above is still offered as one property, but subdivision is possible.

Realistically priced at $139,900

SPACIOUS HOPEWELL DUPLEX ON A FINE TREE-LINED STREET IN TOWN On the corner of these two tree lined avenues, across from the famous lavender house, is a neat Victorian duplex well worth restoring. Inside are two spacious apartments, each with two bedrooms, and one with a fireplace to boot. Call today before the open house at 921-1700. $67,000

AUTHENTIC COLONIAL-PRINCETON ADDRESS-MARVELOUS HOPEWELL SCHOOLS This charming colonial is the historic Old Mount Rose Schoolhouse. Very private yard with beautiful mature trees. House is well insulated and economical to heat. Recent renovations include new kitchen floor. First floor has living room with fireplace, dining room, kitchen, full bath, bedroom. Second floor has four bedrooms and a full bath. $114,500

IN A WOODED NEIGHBORHOOD JUST NORTH OF PRINCETON Our Montgomery Office proudly presents an immaculate spacious colonial bi-level in Montgomery Township. On the upper level is a large living room, a dining room, an eat-in kitchen, three bedrooms and two full baths. On the lower level is a family room with sliding glass doors to a patio, a study or fourth bedroom, a laundry and half bath, and a two-car garage. A beautiful yard, great landscaping and a moderate price. Call today for an appointment with your Firestone agent at 921-1700. $85,000

EXPANSIVE RANCH IN EXCELLENT LAWRENCE NEIGHBORHOOD A very large living and dining room, a spacious eat-in kitchen with lots of cabinets, and a family room with an outside entrance make this a great family home. There are three bedrooms plus a fourth room for a study. Only 10 minutes from downtown Princeton. $74,900

IN THE PRINCETON NEIGHBORHOOD, A GREAT TOWNHOUSE FOR YOU This magnificent Princeton Borough home is really something special. On the outside it is just right for low maintenance with aluminum siding and slate roof, the flagstone patios and gardens have nary a blade of grass. Inside the living room with fireplace, formal dining room, sun room with French doors to a cute flagstone patio, and a cheerful modern eat-in kitchen all give a sense of warmth and spaciousness. On the second floor are three comfortable bedrooms and a full bath, while on the third floor is a huge penthouse with built-in cabinets, room for separate kitchen facilities and another full modern bath (great for guests, etc.). Far better than any Princeton condominium for a reasonable $137,500

JUST THREE MILES FROM PRINCETON IN A QUIET LITTLE VILLAGE Walk under tree-lined streets to the elementary school and village stores from this sparkling colonial. Elegant living room with fireplace, a step up to the dining room, and then to a completely equipped kitchen. There is also a family room, laundry with washer and dryer, and powder room. A wide stairway leads to a front to back master bedroom with full bath three other bedrooms, and a family bath. Won't last long at $82,500

“IN THE GRAND MANOR”

Magnificently proportioned traditional center hall Colonial residence. Unlike most of today's designs, this beautiful house has "full-size" rooms with lofty ceilings and great big windows. The spacious entrance hall leads to a large living room with fireplace and french doors to a broad flagstone terrace (delightful small garden pool). The large formal dining room also opens to the terrace. Both living room and library adjoin a garden room-hall which links the master suite to the main house. There's a large kitchen, utility area and three-car garage. Upstairs, five bedrooms plus dressing room and a finished third floor with its own bath. There is also a game room, darkroom and much more to tell. Call us to hear all about it. $320,000

PEOPLE

In The News

Linda Berry Waler of Woodsedge Farm, Kingston, had an exhibition of her handspun and dyed yarns at Brookdale Community College. Ms. Walker breeds and raises her own sheep for wool, sells yarns and natural fibers and teaches courses in spinning and dyeing.

Bryan L. Reed of 534 Village Road West, Princeton Junction, is a freshman engineering student at Drexel University, Philadelphia, Pa.

The Quarterly Review of Literature, edited by Theodore and Renee Weiss of 26 Haslet Avenue, will be exhibited at the 5th exhibition of the New York Book Fair to be held at the Martin Luther King High School in New York City October 6, 7 and 8. The fair will have exhibitions on every aspect of the processes involved in the making of a book, displays of finished books and periodicals as well as poetry readings from authors published by small presses and forums with representatives of these presses.

Having completed its 30th year with four large retrospective issues, Quarterly Review will inaugurate a new poetry series in a subscription format. Each of the two issues per volume will include four to six collections of poetry, translation, a poetic play or long poem. A $500 prize will be awarded for each manuscript accepted.

The first issue of the New Poetry Series is expected to appear this fall.

Samuel P. Procaccini of 100 Sycamore Road is the new owner of the Parkway Pharmacy in Ewing. The store is located in the Suburban Square Shopping Center at 27 Scotch Road in Ewing.

Mr. Procaccini was born 28 years ago in Petronello, Italy. He came to Princeton in 1958 with his mother, Enrichetta, his sister Mena and two brothers, Guido and Frank to join his father, Tony, and two other brothers, Joe and Fred, who had come in 1955. He graduated from Princeton High School and then attended pharmacy school at Duquesne University in Pittsburgh, Pa. There he met his wife, Diane, who has a B.S. in psychology and is a currently registered nurse working at Princeton House.

Navy Commander Donald S. Sieja, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Sieja of 149 Terhune Road, has been appointed an instructor in applied science at the U.S. Naval Academy in Annapolis, Md. A 1968 graduate of Cornell University, Lcdr. Sieja served as an air traffic control officer aboard the carrier USS Forrestal prior to joining the Academy staff.

New Jersey Masters swimmer Tink Bolster, 124 Parkside Drive, won both the 100-meter and the 200-meter breaststroke at the 1978 National AAU Masters Swimming Championships at Brown University. Her time of 3:41.94 in the 200-meter established a new national masters record in her age group, eclipsing the old mark by more than a second. Mrs. Bolster also won gold medals for the 200-meter free relay and medley relays, and earned second-place silver medals in the 400- and 200-meter individual medley.

Ronald E. Wohlschlegel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Wohlschlegel of 42 Markham Road, has been specially identified for early promotion to senior airman in the U.S. Air Force.

The airman is a law enforcement specialist at Barksdale AFB, La., and serves with a unit of the Strategic Air Command. He is a 1975 graduate of Princeton High School, attended Northwestern State University extension at Barksdale.

Betty Park, a sculptural weaver from Pennington, and Martha Wright of 84 Maclean Circle a ceramist, are delegates to the World Crafts Council in Kyoto, Japan. Ms. Park is New Jersey state representative to the American Crafts Council and a contributing member to the arts magazine, Fiber Arts.

Ms. Wright is an officer of New Jersey Designer Craftsmen and specializes in Raku and burnished pottery for gardens, including fountains. Her work is currently on display at Iris in Princeton.

Mike King, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph King of 122 Linden Lane is a member of the 1978 Heidelberg College soccer squad as a freshman. He is a graduate of Princeton High School, where he participated in football and track but not soccer.

Datus C. Smith, Jr. of 29 Wilson Road has been named as an Honorary Commissioner to the U.S. National Commission for the International Year of the Child, 1979. Mr. Smith will serve in an ad hoc advisory capacity to the Commission, lending his expertise in the field of international cultural relations.

Mr. Smith is president of the U.S. Committee for UNICEF. He was for 15 years president of Franklin Book Programs, a non-profit organization seeking to aid the development of book publishing in developing countries. He was an associate of John D. Rockefeller 3rd, especially in connection with his philanthropic interests in Asia, and was vice-president of the JDR 3rd Fund of which he is still a trustee.

He has been for many years a trustee of the Asia Society. His writings include a work on book publishing in developing countries and an introductory book on Indonesia for American high school readers.

Four Princeton residents are among 23 artists in New Jersey who have received over $54,000 in fellowships from the New Jersey State Council on the Arts.

Visual arts fellowships went to Frances Kuehn of RD 4 in the amount of $3,000 and to Reeve Schley III, $600. In the field of prose, Ralph Schoenstein, Cherry Valley Road, received $3,000, and Milton Babbitt, 76 Western Way, was awarded $2,000 for music.

Dr. Debora Phillips, 14 Philip Drive, is the author (with Robert Judd) of a new book, "How to Fall Out of Love," to be published October 9 by Houghton Mifflin.

Before publication, Dr. Phillips will appear on the Phil Donahue Show Friday, October 6, and on publication day, she is scheduled for the "Today" show. On a national tour this fall, she will give what she calls "mini-seminars" on "How to Fall Out of Love," appearing in 16 cities between October 9 and November 7.

A behavior therapist, Dr. Phillips is assistant clinical professor of psychiatry at Temple University Medical School in Philadelphia, is a sex therapist at Princeton University and works privately with couples, families and individuals through the Princeton Center for Behavioral Consultation.

Her book is designed to help people solve the problem of loving someone who does not love in return, and to help men and women free themselves from obsessive relationships.

Chapters on "Thought-Stopping," "Jealousy," "Silent Ridicule" and "Repulsion" in the book's first part, lead to a second part devoted to the beginnings of sexuality in a new--and presumably more joyous--love affair.

The introduction to Dr. Phillips' book is by Dr. Joseph Wolpe, who has often been called "a founding father" of behavior therapy. Dr. Phillips received her clinical training from Dr. Wolpe.

READY FOR McCARTER'S STAGE: Louis Zorich, Tammy Grimes and Paul Hecht are now previewing Ivan Turgenev's "A Month in the Country," in preparation for opening night this Friday. The billersweel comedy opens McCarter's 1978-79 season, under the direction of Michael Kahn. (Cliff Moore photo)

News Of The THEATRES

McCARTER OPENS
With Turgenev Drama. A hittersweet comedy of Russian provincial life — but Turgenev, not Chekhov.

It's "A Month in the Country," McCarter's opener for the season, with a festive opening night planned for this Friday at 8:30 p.m. Previews are being given this Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at 7:30 p.m.

Director Michael Kahn has Tammy Grimes and Paul Hecht in the leading roles. Ms. Grimes plays the part of Natalya, who is, in the actress' own words, "Fantastic — a woman who creates an atmosphere of grace and charm around her, knows the limits of subtlety and has a very, very modern problem!"

Hecht plays the role of Natalya's former lover. The two characters are trapped by the playwright into the kind of bored leisure once the life-style of provincial Russia. The play grows out of the conflict that comes when an unexpected passion upsets the placid routine.

Tammy Grimes is a double "Tony" winner: once for "The Unsinkable Molly Brown" and again for "Private Lives." She and Mr. Hecht have just toured in "Gracious Living." The actor last appeared on Broadway in "Caesar and Cleopatra" with Elizabeth Ashley Under Mr. Kahn's direction, he played Mark Antony in both "Julius Caesar" and "Antony and Cleopatra" when the two were presented, back-to-back, at the American Shakespeare Festival in Stratford. He was in the original Broadway cast of "Rosencrantz and Guildenstern Are Dead."

After "A Month in the Country," McCarter will present the world premiere of "Put Them All Together," "No Time for Comedy," "The Aspen Papers," "The White Devil," and "Heartbreak House."

HOPE CAST
Opening Night, Nov. 3. That seedy hotel in Baltimore whose equally seedy residents just can't believe the walls are doomed by the wrecker's ball.

Director John S. Halliwell has announced that Ronald Marcus will play Mr. Katz, the hotel manager; Beverly Hagy will be Mrs. Oxenham, the day clerk, and Robert L. Purdue Jr., the night clerk.

Ladies of the evening who make the Hot L their headquarters, will be Susan Tapper ("April Green"); Rosemarie Arcieri ("Suzie") and Mikki Lipsey ("The Girl"). Jackie and Jamie, the mis-matched brother and sister, will be Jane Barish and Peter Dolotta.

The two oldest residents, Millie and Mr. Morse, will be played by Anne Bredon and William Behrle. Barbara Herzberg has been chosen to play Mrs. Belotti and Gary Telles will be Paul Granger III, who comes to the hotel in search of his grandfather. John Mochel will play two parts — one of Suzie's clients, and a cab driver.

John Schenck has been assigned set and lighting design, and Jane Beard, the costumes. "Hot L Baltimore" will be given November 3, 4 and 5; 10-12 and 17-18 at the Players' Theatre, 171 Broadmead. Tickets are available at 921-6314, and group sales may be made through 883-7355.

'PINAFORE' COMING
To Lawrenceville. The "Savoyards" of Philadelphia are coming to the Kirby Arts Center at the Lawrenceville School with their production of "H.M.S. Pinafore" — on Saturday, October 14, at 8:30, sponsored by the Gilbert and Sullivan Association of Princeton.

The Savoy Opera Company (oldest amateur G. & S. company in the country, with continuous performances since 1901) will present the show with its own costumes, sets, direction and cast except for the two principal roles: Sir Joseph Porter, K.C.B., and Captain Corcoran, which will be played by Lee Bristol, Jr., and George Gallup III.

Romance Perpetuated

If you see a New Jersey license plate around town that spells out "KOKO," and it reminds you of a certain Gilbert & Sullivan musical, you're on the right track.

Driving the car will be Lee Bristol, who has played in many of the 19th century English operettas, and one of whose favorite roles is that of the Lord High Executioner in "The Mikado." In tribute to the pleasure it has brought him over the years, KOKO has made it to his license plate.

This will be the first time that the Savoy and Princeton companies joined together and marks the fifth company with which Dr. Bristol has portrayed "Sir Joseph" in "Pinafore." President Emeritus of Westminster Choir College, an organist, composer, author and an active lay churchman, Dr. Bristol has sung comic leads in most of the Gilbert and Sullivan operas. "I was first introduced to G. & S. when I was a ten year-old in the Buxton Country Day School," said Bristol, "and that was it! I guess my favorite parts are the 'Lord Chancellor' in 'Iolanthe' and 'Koko' in the Mikado, but I love them all."

Mr. Gallup, President of the Gallup Poll, has been nicknamed "The Polling Pooh Bah" by his many friends and admirers and has sung in a number of Gilbert and Sullivan productions in several roles. Most recently he sang the title role of the "Mikado" at the Washington State Park in which production Dr. Bristol played "Koko."

General admission tickets will be available at the theatre on the evening of the performance or may be obtained through Westminster Choir College or the Princeton University Store in advance. Tickets are $6 for adults; $3 for students and senior citizens.

FOR HIGH SCHOOL AGE
Special Acting Class. A special acting class for high school students will be given under the auspices of Creative Theatre Unlimited by Will Maitland Weiss, teacher of acting at the American Center School for the Performing Arts. The two-hour class will be held Saturday mornings. For time and place, inquire of CTU, 924-3489.

Director of many productions in New York and Boston, Mr. Weiss is a graduate of Williams College with a Master of Fine Arts in acting from Brandeis. The Princeton class will focus on scene study, and Mr. Weiss will provide background in theatre history and acting techniques. CTU's faculty now includes Susan Tapper, who is teaching a theatre workshop for sixth

Because there's going to be nothing straight about a CHEECH & CHONG film.

Every generation has had their own comedy duo: the 30's had Laurel and Hardy. Abbott & Costello broke up the 40's and Martin and Lewis really fractured the 50's.

CHEECH & CHONG have helped make the 70's go "UP IN SMOKE."

CHEECH & CHONG are the comedy team that gave birth to rock comedy and in the process of turning on a whole generation, sold ten million albums, picked up numerous awards, including Cash Box and Billboard's best comedy duo, and a Grammy for their album, "Los Cochinos."

Now it's time for a CHEECH & CHONG movie. C & C's "UP IN SMOKE" will make you feel very funny.

So don't go straight to see this movie!

through ninth-graders. She is currently rehearsing the part of April in Community Players' production of "Hot L Baltimore," and is director of drama at Stuart Country Day School.

JOINS BALLET COMPANY

As Associate Director, Jane Miller Gifford, prima ballerina who has been associate director and principal dancer of the Eglevsky Ballet Company, will join the Princeton Ballet this season as associate director. Audree Estey, founder of the 15 year old dance company, will continue as director.

Ms. Miller's dancing of leading roles with Eglevsky as well as with the National and Harkness Ballets has elicited high praise from critics. Walter Terry in the Saturday Review wrote of her as Pavlova-like, and the Washington Post found her style reminiscent of Alicia Markova. Ms. Miller has also had a broad background as a teacher, having conducted company and master classes with the National Ballet and the Eglevsky company as well as numerous NEA residencies and master classes.

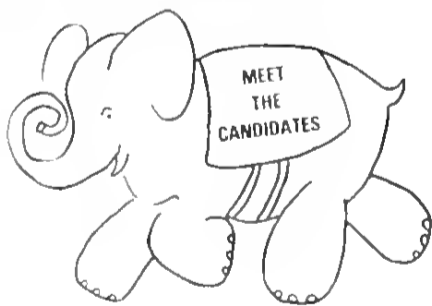

A native of New York City, she was graduated from the School of Performing Arts and then continued her dance studies at the School of American Ballet with George Balanchine. She appeared

In Princeton

SEASON TO OPEN
 For University Orchestra. The Princeton University Orchestra, under the direction of Michael Pratt, will give its first performance this season on Friday, October 20, at 8:30 in Alexander Hall. It will perform Wagner's Prelude to "Die Meistersinger" and Mahler's Symphony No. 4, with Anne Ackley, soprano, as solosit.

A graduate of the New England Conservatory, Ms. Ackley began voice study in Princeton with Janice Har-sanyi. She has performed extensively in New York and Philadelphia, and on the West Coast as a member of the San Francisco Opera Chorus and as soloist with the San Francisco Symphony Chorus under Michael Tilson-Thomas.

Princeton audiences will remember Ms. Ackley from the Princeton University Opera Theatre's production last spring of "The Magic Flute," in which she played the First Lady. She has also performed as soloist with the Princeton Freshman and High School choirs and in the Westminster Choir's presentation of the Six Bach Motets. Currently she is teaching voice at the Choir College and is a member of the choir at the All-Saint's Episcopal Church the Westminster Choir College Big Oak Moravian Church in Sunday at 8. This is the traditional "Lovefeast" which was revived and kept alive by the Moravians since 1727.

The feast literally involves eating special lovefeast buns and drinking coffee in the church — accompanied by music. At Westminster, hymns and choral works have been chosen from a large collection of Moravian music dating back to the 18th and early 19th centuries. Dr. John Kemp, head of the church music department, will conduct a choir of first-year church music majors in several anthems.

A brass choir, led by Louis Woodruff of the music education department, will perform.

ART In Princeton

IN RETROSPECT
Dorothea Greenbaum Sculpture. Although artists are born rather than made, a great many things must happen before the latent creativity surfaces and finds its proper direction. Often this involves false starts, ventures into media that do not properly satisfy, and artistic efforts which, although successful, may not fill the needs of the emerging artist.
So began the career of Dorothea Greenbaum. The sculptor, who has lived and worked in Princeton for many years, began her artistic life as a painter. After studying with Kenneth Hayes Miller, a noted teacher, she pursued a career in oils and began to receive recognition for her work.

While convalescing from an illness, she was given modelling clay by a friend.
From that moment, despite her growing reputation as a painter, she was a sculptor.
She was committed to a lifetime of three dimensional expression and has never painting again.
A retrospective exhibition of Mrs. Greenbaum's work is now on display at the E.R.
Squibb Galleries, Route 206 between Princeton and Lawrenceville. The collection spans her entire career and allows us a glimpse of her early work, including the paintings which are rarely seen. It is a surprise to see how successful a painter she was, considering how easily she relinquished this medium.
Several examples of her paintings, including figurative work, still-life and landscape, reveal a painter who is in control of the materials, using space well and handling her

FAMILIAR? This is the nude version of the bronze, "Child with Bird" whose lightly-cled form stands at the entrance to the children's room of the Princeton Public Library. The sculptor is Dorothea Greenbaum, currently the subject of a 50-year retrospective show at the Squibb Galleries, Lawrenceville Road. "Child with Bird" was executed in 1965 and is one of 30 pieces on loan for exhibit.
medium in a painterly fashion. One can recognize, in her painting, the same responsiveness to surface and contour that was to distinguish her later work as a sculptor.
There are, however, only a few paintings since she became a sculptor early in her career

Classical Theme. The sculpture on display spans half a century and includes some of her earliest pieces as well as the most recent work.
They are all essentially classical in mode, reflecting Mrs. Greenbaum's sensitive responses to the world around her. She has focused on nature forms and animal life and figurative works throughout her career and is able, in her work, to communicate her joy in the aesthetic treasure trove she has discovered in her surroundings.

She has used many different materials, employing the characteristics of her medium to contribute to the spirit and expressiveness of her sculpture. Cast bronze works retain the fluidity and sense of malleability of the sculptor's clay. Stone carvings show respect for the mass inherent in the material and Mrs.
Greenbaum's sensitivity to its essential characteristics.
Portraits in hammered lead not only represent an artistic triumph over an extremely difficult medium but also an artistic reconciliation of two and three dimensions.

The collection is pleasant to contemplate, offering a mix of surface richness, lyrical rhythms and the graceful embodiment of many familiar forms.

At the Gallery of Fine Art.
Although Dorothea Greenbaum is essentially a sculptor she has always remained receptive to new media and recently added printmaking to her creative repertoire. The same classical lyricism that is part of her sculpture characterizes her masonite prints, etchings and sketches.
The Princeton Gallery of Fine Art is exhibiting the prints and drawings, many of which date back to the artist's early years. Included are early sketches of animals, and her first etchings and the more recent incised masonite works. The prints are also classical in manner and concerned with natural rhythms and surface harmonies.

The gallery is also exhibiting a group show of paintings by many noted contemporary artists. A variety of styles and paint media include the work of Wolf Kahn, Tom George, Gregorio Prestopino and Darby Bannard among others.

At the University Art Museum. A collection of contemporary art from the Museum collection mirrors many of the more significant changes of the painting of this century. The collection begins with the beginning of the century, exhibiting works by Klee and Gris to reflect a period when the last vestige of the recognizable image remained but the focus of two dimensional art was rapidly moving elsewhere.

The newer directions are revealed in the works of Miro, Pallock and De Kooning, whose paintings moved the focus radically into the abstract expressionism which was to dominate art for more than a decade. The display continues with works by many of the more significant

TO HEAD AREA DRIVE
For Smith College. Mrs. Joseph L. Bolster, Jr. and Mrs. C. Barnwell Straut have been appointed area co-chairmen for Central New Jersey in the Smith College (Northampton, Mass.) capital campaign for $40,000,000 in new funds. They have recently returned from a workshop at Smith College with other New Jersey area leaders.

Mrs. Bolster has served the college as alumnae fund representative, in various capacities on the Smith auction and, most recently, as chairman of pecan sales for the Princeton area. She has been active on the boards of the P.T.O. at both Johnson Park and the Princeton Middle Schools and is currently on the Princeton Recreation Board.

Mrs. Straut has served the college in various capacities on the Smith auction and pecan sales, as a member of the special gifts committee for her 25th reunion class and, most recently, as co-chairman of Princeton's committee for the New York Regional Benefit Concert at Lincoln Center.

In their work, Mrs. Bolster and Mrs. Straut will be assisted by many Smith alumnae from the area. Some of the members of their committee are Mrs. Lucius Wilmerding III, Mrs. Mark Munn, Mrs. Reuven Snyderman, Mrs. Leon Greenberg, Mrs. O. Kline Fulmer, Mrs. Kester Pierson, Mrs. R. Gerald Mould and Mrs. David M. Smith.

The major objective of Smith's capital campaign is $9 million to renovate and expand the college's library. Additional funds will be sought to enlarge the college's botanical facility and to modernize its dormitories.

Other objectives include support of a program expanding the educational opportunities for older women and endowment monies to improve the salaries of junior members of the faculty, to strengthen the Smith College School for Social Work, and to purchase books for the library.

The Campaign will begin for this area's alumnae with a reception at the Nassau Inn on November 1. President Jill K. Conway will be the principal speaker and guest of honor.

The Princeton Junior Woman's Club will meet on October 5 at 8 at The Prince of Peace Lutheran Church on the Princeton-Hightstown Road. Rosa Strayhorn, representing Womenspace of Mercer County, will present the program. For more information call 799-9182 or 448-7834.

The Montgomery Women's Club will meet on Thursday 8 at the Montgomery High School home economics room. Theodore Hagois will demonstrate Chinese cooking, which he describes as a "relatively simple and efficient technique." The Flemington Chef, who has taught in Mercer and Hunterdon counties, will prepare a chicken dish.

Mrs. Joan Glazier is chairman of hostesses for the month. Assisting are Mrs. Dorothy Dorey, Mrs. Helen Evans, Mrs. Frances Gerding, and Mrs. Jean Hoffman. Guests are welcome.

The West Windsor Garden Club will have its first program of the season on Thursday, October 12, at 8. Lawrence Bencze, a landscape architect, will give a slide presentation and answer questions. The meeting will be held in the home of Judith Dickstein at 20 Wood Hollow Road, Princeton Junction.

Call 799-3678 or 799-2409 for information. New members are welcome.

The New Jersey Council of the National Association of Accountants has elected Lawrence W. Brooks of Mercerville as treasurer for the ensuing year. The Council, which coordinates the programs and activities of ten New Jersey NAA Chapters, offers a variety of educational and professional seminars on accounting and financial management.

Mr. Brooks, who represents the Princeton chapter in the Council, is currently vice-President of administration. He has held numerous offices in the organization and was honored as Princeton's Member of the Year for 1976-77.

painters of the past 20 years including Rauschenberg, Stella, Motherwell and Kline.

Photographs and drawings of bridges designed by Christian Menn, a Swiss engineer, reflect the concept that art and technology are not mutually exclusive concerns. The bridges, which have been designed to reflect both technological changes and the impact of increased construction costs, are elegant forms soaring above the landscape. These simple structures are sculptural in their rhythms.

Supplemental information from the catalog by David Billington tells us that Menn's forms are perhaps the best examples today of a synthesis of efficiency, economy and elegance in works of engineering.

16 TO SHOW CRAFTS

At Library. The work of 16 craft artists from the Princeton area will be on exhibit at the Princeton Public Library from Friday until the end of the month. The show opens during New Jersey Craft Week which has been designated by Governor Byrne to focus attention on crafts in the Garden State.

The pieces on view cover a wide range of crafts and were contributed by members of Transformations, a Princeton-based craft cooperative. Included are jewelry by Betty Ruth Curtiss, Alexandra Wahl and Margi Wainio; fiber construction by Betty Park; woven articles by Niki Guyer and Sara Prestipino; stitched work by Joy Saville; coiled fiber baskets by Cheryl Vernon; hand spun natural wool yarn by Linda Berry Walker.

Also, ceramics by Yvonne Aronson, Constance Bracci-McIndoe, Helena Fraker, Marilyn Garnick, Ilse Johnson, Lucy Scanlon, and Martha Wright. The ceramics pieces represent cast, wheel thrown, and handbuilt forms, using porcelain and stoneware clay and a variety of firing techniques.

Transformations will open its third annual Christmas show at the University Store on November 23. The group's work has also been seen at Gallery 100.

CANVASES ON VIEW

By Italian Artist. An exhibit of oils and lithographs by Dolores Puthod is currently on exhibit at Gallery 100, 100 Nassau Street. The exhibit will remain through October 12.

Ms. Puthod was born in Italy of French parents in 1934. Growing up in the midst of war and spending her childhood in a concentration camp had a decided influence upon her paintings. She began designing costumes and painting portraits of eminent Milan families. After studying at the Brera Academy in Milan, she worked for seven years at La Scala as a scenic designer.

In 1977 she was commissioned by La Scala to paint eight huge canvases, 10 by 12 feet, honoring the bicentennial celebration of this famous opera house. These works and a graphic portfolio containing six handcolored lithographs make up the exhibit.

Ms. Puthod is said to be particularly good at figures. Her portraits are thought to penetrate the individual, giving not only a clear set of features but expressions that are full of meaning.

ENTRIES SOUGHT

For Juried Show. The Princeton Art Association is accepting entries to its ninth annual juried show.

Exhibition, which will open at McCarter Theatre on October 29 and run through November 20.

W. Darby Bannard will judge the show. Mr. Bannard is a painter whose works are part of the collections of the Whitney Museum, the Museum of Modern Art, the New Jersey State Museum at Trenton, and many others. He is also well known as an art critic and lecturer.

The winner of the Best-in-Show Award will receive $100, donated by the Market Place of Princeton, plus the opportunity to show his or her recent work at the "Winners' Show" at McCarter in September, 1979.

Artists may submit two entries to the Princeton Art Association on Rosedale Road, on October 21 and 22 between 10 and 2. Only oils, opaque acrylics and collages are eligible for this show — transparent acrylics under glass will not be considered. Paintings must be wired for hanging and may not exceed 48 by 60 inches. The entry fee per painting is $3 for members and $4 for non-members. A hanging fee of $1 will be charged for accepted work.

For further information, call the PAA at 921-9173, or Betty Reed, exhibition chairman, at 921-1683.

"You can get the best of everything in Princeton--including financial planning."

James E. Doyle
Senior Vice President

"You don't have to go to the big money center banks in New York or Philadelphia for sound investment management advice and service. Nor do you have to travel to find an executor, trustee, custodian, or financial planner. The quality of these services here at The First National Bank of Princeton is second to none.

"Most likely your financial circumstances have changed in recent years. Your present estate plan may no longer meet your needs. And, very likely, you've been too busy to give this matter your full attention.

"We offer the highest calibre of financial services—right here in Princeton. Our trust officers are well skilled, thoroughly experienced and particularly sensitive to your unique needs. We take pride not only in the quality of our services ... but also in the unhurried, personal attention we provide. You can be assured that when you turn to The First National Bank of Princeton, you're turning to experts with the financial sophistication you require and deserve. And, I might add, you'll be pleasantly surprised at our relatively modest fees.

"We would welcome the opportunity to make an initial evaluation of your financial arrangements ... free of cost or obligation. It won't take long and could mean long-range benefits for you and your family. With top-level expertise at your doorstep, there's just no reason to postpone this matter. I look forward to hearing from you soon."

Here's a football quiz for you. We're going to list 5 of the top players in pro football today, but very few fans — even the real good ones — can name the colleges that each of these players went to. See if you can. The players are: Walter Payton, Billy (White Shoes) Johnson, Ed (Too Tall) Jones, Lyle Alzado and Drew Pearson. Here are the answers: Payton went to Jackson State... Johnson went to Widener... Jones went to Tennessee State... Alzado went to Yankton... And Pearson went to Tulsa.

Did you know that Alabama has gone to a bowl game EVERY season for the last 19 years. Last time Alabama didn't go to a bowl was after the 1958 season.

Of all the big league baseball managers in history, which one managed in the most World Series? Answer is Casey Stengel, who managed in 10 World Series, and no one else has ever matched that.

Brown, a Disappointing 0-2, Offers Tigers Unexpected Chance for a Major Triumph

NEW MAN AT THE HELM: Steve Reynolds (with ball) replaced Ken Barrett as Princeton's quarterback in the final quarter of the Rutgers game but neither player could move the Tigers, whose total offense was 122 yards, with the deepest penetration to the Scarlet 27. The 24-0 shut out was first since Rutgers won here, 17-0, two years ago.

Wholly unexpectedly, a Brown University football team which has yet to score a touchdown and is an astonishing 0-2 will provide Princeton's somewhat distraught Tigers with a chance to bring their own season even with the .500 mark. The Bruins' visit to Palmer Stadium for the home opener Saturday at 1:30 will find them battling for survival in a race they had expected to dominate.

In its two games to date, Brown was convincingly blanked by Yale, 21-0, and then suffered a 17-3 defeat by Rhode Island for its first loss to the lightly-regarded Rams in six years. As surprising as Yale's margin was, compounded by the upset at the hands of Rhode Island, it is just as difficult to believe that the presumably powerful Bruins have yet to cross anybody's goal line.

With good running backs and senior Mark Whipple, a talented quarterback with over 1300 yards in total offense and a 54 percent passing average last year, operating behind a big, experienced line, optimism as the season began was logically a bumper harvest. "I'll be disappointed," said John Anderson, who changed the Bruins from a perennial league doormat to a steady title threat, "if we don't better our 1977 record of 7-2." Now, the Bruins will have to finish with seven straight just to stay even with last year's mark.

What has gone so wrong for Brown may not even be clear at Providence, but the basic result of its problems is to give Princeton an opportunity that no one could have foreseen a short ten days ago. Instead of going into the game Saturday facing a highly-confident opponent waiting to wrap up its sixth straight victory in the series more or less as a matter of course, the Tigers can logically be ranked about an even bet. If they can untangle their feet offensively enough to get the upper hand initially, their defense may be good enough to stymie the uncertain Bruins all the way. Playing away from home after two very disappointing defeats can make the job of catch-up half an extremely difficult task.

Two juniors, Marty Moran and Jojo Jamel, are Brown's top running backs, while other good ball carriers are John

After two scoreless quarters, in which penalties slowed both teams, the ball was punted 14 times and changed hands 16, the Scarlet finally got down to the business at hand. In 10 plays, it marched 76 yards for a TD; after four plays, following a 60-yard punt return, Kennan Startzell booted a 41-yard field goal; and in eight plays, the victors rolled for another 63 yards, thereby putting 17 points on the board in just over 10 minutes. Another punt return brought the final score, this one for 69 yards in the final quarter. It was made possible because the ball bounced a couple of times and 11 Princetonians then stood around waiting for the ball to roll dead while a Rutgers back grabbed it and went the distance untouched.

The game was also marked by the loss for the rest of the season of Joe Lundie, who was removed from the field on a stretcher after having ligaments torn in his knee. The 6-3, 245-lb. junior was in his second year as a starting defensive tackle and while sophomore Steve Hart (6-2, 224) has good promise, Lundie's greater size and experience will be badly missed.

SPORTS In Princeton

King, Rick Villella and Steve Curtin. Whipple's primary target may well be junior Mark Farnham, the split end whose 24 receptions last year led the league. A big line, anchored by 6-3, 245-lb. All-Ivy center Mike Knight, includes a 280-lb. tackle in John Simott and seems sure to begin to provide topflight blocking some Saturday soon.

The Bruins are less formidable defensively than they were last year, when Harvard's 15 points in a losing cause were the most anyone could pry away from them. Graduation took its toll, and co-captain Neil Jacob, a two-year letterman at linebacker, has been lost for the season with a fractured arm. This defensive unit of the Bruins and the Tigers' very green offense hold the key to the game: if Princeton can move the ball against it as Rhode Island did, and anywhere near what Yale accomplished, Princeton may leave the field with a very welcome 1-1-1 record.

QUICK LOOK AT BROWN

OFFENSE: Far below expectations to date but should improve with veteran Mark Whipple as quarterback. Running game can be solid.

DEFENSE: Slowed by rebuilding and injuries. Tigers' ability to dominate it will be key to outcome.

CHIEF ASSET: Experience, but team that was 7-2 last year must become cohesive quickly.

CHIEF PROBLEM: Morale, after 0-2 start. Loss here could wreck Bruins' hopes for another winning season.

TYPE OF ATTACK: Multiple

AFTER ONE HALF...
No Contest. When Rutgers finally got around to playing straight-forward football, as it did the minute the second half began, Princeton slowly but surely dropped out of contention Saturday in the Giants' Meadowlands Stadium. Some 25,000 watched the 24-0 game — the first, incidentally, that the Tigers have played on a neutral field since 1942, when war-time policy dictated that they "bring the game to the crowd, instead of the crowd to the game." That year, Army and Navy were played in Yankee Stadium and Yale at Columbia's Baker Field.

The Tigers once again had all kinds of problems moving the ball, and it was not really surprising under the circumstances that whereas they had bounced back with two second-half touchdowns to tie Cornell, they could do nothing against a better team like Rutgers. A penetration to the Scarlet 27 in the first quarter was their best effort of the day.

Statistically, they were buried: 7 of 18 passes for 59 yards; 63 yards on the ground for a total offense of 122, and no points. It was the third straight year in losing three straight to this opponent that they had failed to produce a touchdown.

Still No Running Game. If the Tigers are winless in two starts because the defense has yielded a total of 38 points, it is the veteran offensive line that is really the big disappointment. All lettermen, most with two years' experience as starters, they are neither opening proper holes for the ball carriers nor affording adequate pass protection.

Granted that none of the 1978 crop of backs is a proven standout, none has had the opportunity to become one with the kind of blocking provided them so far. The veer offense is creating problems for them, ranging from fumbled pitchouts to a near-total lack of deception in its execution, but the ground game will not develop until the line can take care of the other guys at least part of the time.

Now, as the ever-unpredictable Ivy League moves into the early weeks of the 1978 season, the Tigers are confronted with an opportunity to move forward somewhat faster than had seemed likely. If they can produce an offense by the third game of their season, the Ewing loss as even but they may bag an opponent whose ability to beat them

PHS VS. HUN SATURDAY

After 27-6 Loss to Ewing. "We're spotty. We have no consistency yet," commented Princeton High football coach Jim Beachell last week, after he watched visiting Ewing combine some big plays and a lot of PHS mistakes for a 27-6 win.

PHS (0-1-1) will have to find that consistency and cut down on the errors if it hopes to maintain its unbeaten, unscored upon record against Hun School—its next opponent. The town rivals will clash Saturday morning at 10:30 at the PHS field.

"Hun is a lot better than they're showing insisted Beachell. "The have five or six PGs this year—they didn't recruit them for nothing—and they're not to get us." But Beachell vowed: "We'll be ready."

PHS will enter the fray without any serious injuries, but Beachell hinted he may make a few changes.

On balance, Beachell saw third game of their season, the Ewing loss as even but said Ewing was "able to make things count." A face guard penalty, personal foul, missed assignments—Beachell ticked off the mistakes his team made which he said helped set up Ewing's scores. What it amounted to, he maintained, was "we gave them three TDs."

"We're making a lot of errors—that's what football is all about—but we're making too many of them. You name it, we've done it."

Fast Start For Ewing. Ewing started fast when Dave Gibson ran back the opening kickoff 66 yards. PHS narrowed it to 7-6 in the following period when PHS drove 70 yards in five plays, fullback Ian Broadwater slamming up the middle from 12 yards out.

Despite the score, Beachell admitted that Ewing pushed his team around in the second period, as the Blue Devils came right back with their second score, with less than two minutes left in the half. The 92-yard drive was sprung by a play that both Beachell and Ewing coach Bruce Martz agreed was the turning point

Deep in its own territory. Ewing executed a 39-yard fake punt pass from quarterback Flip Flaherty to Kevin Preston. "It never should have happened," moaned Beachell. "Ewing is a big-break team and they got the breaks."

Ewing added two more scores in the second half on touchdown runs of 36 and 10 yards by Steve Harmon who had the bulk of Ewing's 146 yards on the ground with 89 in 13 carries. PHS was not far behind on the ground with 120 but it trailed in passing yardage, 78 to 21. Kiernan Esposito was four for nine in the air for the Little Tigers.

Miles Best Gainer for PHS. Beachell cited the running of Paul Miles, who had 53 yards in 13 carries, and that of Tony Intartaglia, who was used sparingly because of a bruised ankle. Tony rushed for 31 yards in four carries. He is averaging about 12 yards per carry after two games, prompting Beachell to say that he would like to see both of them in the backfield at the same time.

He also singled out the play of Broadwater and that of sophomore Dave Dinella for his defensive play and at quarterback where he took over for Esposito late in the game.

Princeton had a couple of things going that might have led to scores but they didn't pan out, observed Beachell. Three times on critical plays the snapback was fumbled.

PDS GIRLS WIN TWO

In Field Hockey. The Princeton Day field hockey team recorded a pair of shutout victories last week, beating Newark Academy, 3-0, on Friday, and Montclair-Kimberly, 2-0, the following day. Earlier in the week, PDS tied Hopewell Valley 1-1, giving the Panthers a 3-1-2 record to date.

Against Newark Academy, sophomore Sarah Burchfield scored in the first half to give PDS a 1-0 lead, and Lolli Bennison scored two second half goals. Linda Littell scored the first goal against Montclair; Buff Woodworth added an insurance tally on a corner shot by Littell.

Bennison put PDS ahead 1-0 against Hopewell Valley, but the visitors tied it in the same period, and neither team could score again.

STREAK NOW AT 24

For PDS Soccer Team. When you are riding the crest of a long undefeated streak, there are easy games, the Princeton Day soccer team found out last week.

Playing two of the weaker teams on their schedule, the Panthers had no easy time of it in either contest, but managed to come away with

Mini Class Reunions

Football coach Frank Navarro, one or more of the Princeton players and the opposing coach for Saturday's game (the latter by amplified telephone) are the speakers. The Class of 1933 had 14 of its members at a table last week, and others who wish similar arrangements should call Rod Duncan at the Nass, 921-7500.

"WE'LL BE READY": Despite a 27-6 loss to Ewing last week, Princeton High football coach Jim Beachell vows his Little Tigers will be ready for Hun on Saturday.

Sports in Princeton

"They know they have to play well, because the other teams are all shooting to end the streak, but you can't be as up for a team like Delbarton as you can for PHS or Hun."

The Blue and White did not play well against Delbarton last Wednesday, but managed to steal away with a 1-0 triumph on the strength of a third period score by Jay Nusblatt. Larry Pierson's sideline throw - in bounced over the head of one Delbarton defender, and was gathered in by Nusblatt, who maneuvered around another fullback and sent a hard shot by the goalie.

PDS outshot the home team 18-4, but only seven of those were saved by the Delbarton goalie.

Saturday, PDS played better against Montclair, but perhaps an early score by the losers provided the necessary impetus. A defensive lapse left a Montclair forward uncovered around the 18-yard mark, and he quickly converted the opportunity into an early 1-0 lead.

Thereafter, PDS became more aggressive and controlled matters the rest of the game. In the middle of the second period the Montclair goalie blocked a shot by Nusblatt, blocked Doug Fine's rebound, but could not reach Nusblatt's second shot.

PDS got the winning goal in the third period, when a blocked shot by Doug Fine rolled to Jono Rush, who fed the ball to Dave McCord at wing. McCord then boomed a terrific shot by the Montclair goalie for the game-winner.

The PDS unbeaten streak has now reached 24, and it will be tougher to protect this week, with games against Hun on Wednesday and Trenton High Friday.

4-0 AND CLIMBING
PHS Girls Win in Tennis. Two Colonial Valley Conference victories last week — a 4-1 triumph over Hightstown and a 5-0 blanking of West Windsor — pushed the record of the Princeton High School girls tennis team to 4-0.

In upcoming matches, PHS will entertain Metuchen this Wednesday, oppose Hamilton Friday and play host to Lawrence on Tuesday.

Muffy Ellis, Princeton's No. 1 singles player and still coming off an illness, was the only player to lose against Hightstown. She lost in three sets.

Patty Dinella and Diane Aronovic won their singles matches in straight sets, as did the doubles pairings of Lisa and Sara Merians and Debbie Blair and Julia Schwartz.

The same players all won against West Windsor, Dinella, the number two singles enjoying the easiest time with a 6-0, 6-0 victory.

HUN LOSES TWO

In Soccer. The Hun School soccer team dropped decisions to Peddie and Lawrenceville last week, as its record fell below .500 to 2-3.

That's bad enough. What has Hun coach Jack Huckel feature that Huckel and his worried is that he can't put his finger on what's wrong.

"We haven't played well since the Newark game," he said. "We haven't been motivated the last two games, we haven't been aggressive and I'm not sure I know what to do to change it."

And, as Huckel observed, the schedule isn't getting any easier. This Wednesday afternoon at 3:45, Hun will oppose undefeated Princeton Day School on the PDS field and then play another town rival, Princeton High School, Friday at the PHS Valley Road field.

Following the Hun - PDS match, which ended in acrimony last year, cider and donuts will be served to the players and fans, a new feature that Huckel and his counterpart, John Jamieson, intend to make an annual affair.

Hans Ravesteijn's goal in the third period was Hun's lone tally in a 3-1 loss to Peddie Saturday. Joe Claffey and Duncan William shared the net for Hun and came up with 16 saves.

Earlier in the week, Hun was blanked by Lawrenceville School, 2-0.

CHAMPIONS CROWNED

In Women's Tennis, Adelle Budd and Muriel Hibbs became champions last week in the West Windsor pink group women's doubles. Mrs. Budd and Mrs. Hibbs defeated Anita Borak and Nancy Dennerly, 6-3, 6-2.

They had advanced to the finals with a 6-1, 6-3 triumph over Alice Payne and Irene Cook. Borak and Dennerly had defeated Pat Atkinson and Thelma Bornheimer, 6-3, 6-3, in their semi-final match.

HUN TURNS TO PHS

After Drubbing by Peddie. "A complete disaster. They just outplayed us totally."

"We made a half-dozen mistakes; you can't do that against a good team," commented Hun football coach Dave Leete, after his team had been hammered, 30-0, last week by Peddie before a homecoming crowd. "I just hope they can come back."

If Hun needs an incentive, it won't be hard to find. Saturday at 10:30, it will play crosstown rival Princeton High School and since the two schools have resumed playing in recent years, Hun not only has yet to win, it has yet to score a point against the Little Tigers.

Against Peddie, Hun has but one shining moment. In the second period, Arvie Powell started a sweep around his left end, cut back and raced down the right sideline for 58 yards to the Peddie 32, but on the next Hun fumbled and Peddie recovered. From there, the Falcons started another drive that ended in a 23-yard field goal and a 10-0 halftime lead.

Disdaining the pass — Peddie did not attempt one for the second game in a row in rolling to its second shutout — the visitors rolled up 265 yards rushing, 124 by post-grad halfback Chris Salvaterra, the former Moorestown High player.

Aside from Powell's long gainer, Hun was held to eight yards on the ground and 45 in the air on four completions in nine attempts by Hun quarterback E. T. Roach. The Falcons' Larry Buffalo picked off one of Roach's passes and returned it 53 yards for TD in the third period when Peddie scored 20 points to turn the game into a rout.

VOLLEYBALL SCHEDULED

16 Women's Teams Entered. The fifth annual Princeton Invitational Volleyball Tournament, with 16 teams from the United States and Canada, is scheduled for Princeton University's Jadwin Gym on Friday and Saturday, October 14 and 15.

American colleges participating include Alabama, the defending champion; Delaware, a three-time runner-up; Northern Kentucky, a regional champion last year which ran up a 41-15 record; Cincinnati, Maryland, the 1975 Invitational champion; Rutgers, New Jersey champions in 1977, and Rhode Island, one of the top teams in New England. Also, Florida Tech, Florida International, George Washington, Mt. Saint Joseph College of Ohio and Princeton, the 1976 Ivy League champions. Canadian squads making the trip south will be Guelph University and the University of Waterloo, both from Ontario; McGill University of Montreal and the New Brunswick Provincial Team.

PHS TOPS HIGHTSTOWN

For Second in a Row. Combining an almost impenetrable defense and goals by Bruce Lifton and Richard Sparks, the Princeton High School soccer team blanked visiting Hightstown, 2-0, last week in a Colonial Valley League contest.

The win, the Little Tigers' first shut out and second in a row, evened their record at 2-2-1. In the league they are 2-0-1.

PHS will next play Marie Katzenbach School for the Deaf on Thursday and then host Hun School Friday and Lawrence High on Tuesday, the latter two at 3:45.

Defense Excels. "The defense played very well," said PHS coach Ed Beacham.

Kickoff Contest Saturday

Three boys and three girls will compete in a kickoff contest during the halftime intermission of the Princeton-Brown game Saturday to mark the start of the 1978 United Way-Red Cross campaign.

"We've chosen this unusual way to start our campaign because it provides a large audience, and the United Way can succeed only with the mass support of the residents of the 13 communities in the Princeton area," James Stewart, 1978 campaign chairman, said.

"Fittingly, Princeton has designated its opening home game this Saturday as 'Mercer-Somerset County Day' and residents of these two counties can buy $2 admission tickets at the gate."

The youngsters, in the 13 to 14 year age group, will each kick one football from a tee. The winning girl and boy will each receive tickets to a Princeton basketball game for themselves and their parents.

after the Hightstown win. Indeed it did. It limited the Rams to one shot on goal in the second half, five for the entire game.

PHS, meanwhile, was peppering the Hightstown goalie with 23 shots. Bruce Lifton score three minutes and 21 seconds into the game on an assist from Ron Celestin. Senior Richard Sparks scored the second goal at the 16:38 mark in the third period, Jay Bienkowski assisting.

Beacham cited the defensive play of Dave Reed, who is rapidly developing into one of the best sweeper backs in the county, Dan Miller, Dave Young and Jay Bienkowski, a sophomore.

"That Bienkowski," commented Beacham in admiration. "We send him in and he shuts them right down. He has a lot of guts and he can run all day."

"I think they're getting to know one another's moves," he added. They're talking to one another, getting out of each other's way."

If Beacham has a reservation, it is a tendency for his team to play like the competition. "We seem to play up to the level of competition," he said. "If some one runs, we run, when somebody hustles, we hustle; we've got to learn to play our own game."

Princeton's "game" is to control the ball with a lot of short passes. "We're not a running team," says Beacham.

PDS BEATEN 31-6

Pennington Next. The game was closer than the score would indicate, but that probably doesn't provide much solace to members of the Princeton Day football team, which lost 31-6 to Montclair - Kimberly last Saturday.

The Panthers are now 1-2 on the season, and things are not going to get any easier. Pennington this Saturday and Peddie the next will give the Blue and White all it can handle. Pennington is 1-1 to date, coming back after an opening game loss to a Perkiomen team loaded with post-graduate players, to whip Wardlaw. Game time is 11 a.m. at Pennington field on Burd Street off Delaware Avenue.

There is no lack of ability on this Panther squad — the problem is putting it to use. The offense, particularly is having trouble in the execution of its plays at crucial moments. If it can avoid such things as fumbled snaps, broken plays and the like, the Blue and White can stay with Pennington.

Turning Point. Battling Montclair on even terms through the first quarter Saturday, PDS got stung by an 85-yard punt return in the second quarter by Tony Barnes, which in the analysis of PDS coach Jim Walker, was the turning point in the contest. "That kind of broke our spirit," Walker conceded.

The winners set up good punt returns all game long, and although only one went the distance, it was enough to continually give them good field position, and force the Panthers to play in their territory.

"Those punt returns were no accident," Walker commented. "Montclair did an excellent job of setting up its blockers."

Once the ice had been broken, the home team put 10 more points on the scoreboard before the intermission. John Joseph added three more on a 30-yard field goal, and Larry Duca scored on a three-yard plunge to make it 17-0, culminating a 68-yard drive.

Celebrate 50 years of diesel experience with us.

Fifty years ago, Peugeot began producing its first automotive diesel engine. Over the half century Peugeot has perfected its diesel engine — and the cars they go into.

Combine that with Peugeot's sports car-like handling, and the interior room of a full size sedan. Plus a long list of standard luxuries like power-assisted rack and pinion steering and four-wheel disc brakes, four-wheel independent suspension, electric front windows, fully reclining front seats, a sliding steel sunroof, and optional automatic transmission.

It's a 50th Anniversary for the Peugeot Diesel. But we can make it a real celebration for you.

Football Friday Night

Princeton's 150-lb. football team will open its season Friday night at 7:30 on Frelinghuysen Field with Pennsylvania providing the opposition. The Tiger lightweights will be under the guidance this fall of Tom Murray, who has been the defensive coordinator for the past nine years.

There are six teams in the Eastern League, which also includes Navy, the defending champion; Army, Cornell and Rutgers. Under existing rules, teams do not scout each other, may not make use of field phones during games and may use only players who weigh 158 pounds or less two days prior to the kickoff.

participate regardless of their soccer experience. Instructional sessions and informal scrimmages will be held before a team is chosen.

For additional information, call Mary O'Leary at 924-9793.

WEST WINDSOR WINS

On Barletta Passing. Connecting on seven of nine passes for 148 yards, including a 13-yard aerial to Mark Potts for the game's first score, West Windsor quarterback Ralph Barletta led the Pirates to a 21-6 victory over Lawrence High last week — their first of the season.

Barletta's passing and Lawrence penalties combined to set up all three WW scoring drives. The other two were capped by runs of three and two yards by co-captain Joe Davis. Lawrence, in turn, was as inept in the air as the Pirates were outstanding, failing to connect on any of eight attempts and having two intercepted. Lawrence rushed for 95 yards in 36 carries while WW had 111 in 43 rushes.

Four passes for 60 yards highlighted a 13-play, 80-yard drive by WW in the second period that gave the home team a 14-0 halftime edge. WW scored its third TD in the final period, marching 61 yards in 10 plays. Davis hit on all three extra point attempts.

CLINICS, LEAGUES SET

In Platform Tennis. The Recreation Department will again offer a number of platform tennis clinics and leagues which are designed to fit the level and interest of all platform tennis players in the community. The courts are located in Community Park, next to the Community Park Pool, where all programs will take place. Only Princeton residents are eligible for court membership.

Free beginner clinics will be held on October 10 and 12 at 10:30 - noon and at 7:30 - 9. The clinics are designed for those who would like to get a look at the game of platform tennis or for those who have played a few times and would like some pointers on certain aspects of the game.

In addition, the Recreation Department is sponsoring a women's league for those who wish to play once a week on a recreational level; two teams for competitive play in the New Jersey Women's Platform League; an inter-club team which offers competition on a less rigorous level than the state team; a weekend couple's league and a men's league.

For further information and registration, call the Recreation Office at 921-9480.

Stymied by penalties as well as broken plays, PDS had little offense to show in the first half, and did not come near the Montclair goal line.

That changed in the third period, as the Panthers put together their only scoring drive. Returning to full duty in the backfield Chris Price ran for 133 yards on the day, much of it on this series. The six points came on a Jeff Freda to Randy Shelton pass from 18 yards out. Price failed on the P.A.T. attempt.

The momentum seemed to have shifted to PDS at this point, and there was still plenty of time left, but things quickly changed back in Montclair's favor. PDS attempted an onside kick to thwart a long run back, Montclair recovered and with the aid of back-to-back 15 yards penalties against the Blue and White, quickly marched down the field to score again.

The winners added yet another score against the PDS reserves late in the fourth quarter.

The PDS offense gained more than 200 yards on the ground, but consistency was missing. More often than not, the Panthers would begin deep in their own territory, manage a couple of first downs, but then stall.

It's consistency that will be needed against Pennington this Saturday. The more they can control the ball, the better chance the Panthers have of evening their record at 2-2.

LAWRENCEVILLE LOSES

To Deerfield Rally. It will be a sobered Lawrenceville School football team that plays host to Germantown Saturday in its home opener.

A big winner two weeks ago against Lawrence High, the Larries seemed en route to their second win last week when they began the final period of play with a 15-0 lead over Deerfield Academy in Massachusetts.

Until then, the Larries' Jim Furey had been in command. He sprinted 66 yards on the second play of the game and later passed 19 yards to Joe Staley for the visitors' second score. Furey rushed for 144 yards on 27 carries and passed for 102; Staley had five receptions for 119 yards.

Lawrenceville added a little more icing in the third period with a safety, but after Deerfield had scored its first TD it blocked a punt for a second and went ahead a short time later when John Bloomer ran over on a 60-yard scamper. A 32-yard pass interception of a Jay Budd pass sealed the win for the home team.

Soccer Team Wins, 2-1. The undefeated Larrie soccer team had better success, earning a 2-1 victory over Christian Brothers Academy, a team which had defeated Lawrenceville last year by the same score.

Lawrenceville scored first in the opening period on a John Gower goal assisted by Mike Coryell. Seven minutes into the second period, CBA beat Larrie goalie Paul Knoll to tie it.

Midway in the third period, Mike Sodersten penetrated the CBA defense and slipped a pass to Gower who scored the go-ahead goal. Lawrenceville outshot CBA, 22 to 10.
